LOCAL.

I was afraid I'd forget myself and eat your little niece some day.—Time.

We have met the enemy.

Pour weeks from yesterday is Thanksgiving.

New Ads. this week for Frank Smith, Comstock & Co., and Davis & Co.

Col. Sanford. Number two in the regular Normal Course.

Office boy (to editor)-There's a lady outside, sir, with some poetry. Editor-How old is she? 'Bout seventeen. Show

You can guess on the beans free. You must pay a years subscription at the time vou guess, however. Bear these facts in mind, and come in and guess.

The ladies of the African M. E. church will give a concert and fair at Benevo ent Hall, on Thanksgiving eve, for the benefit of their pastor. An admission fee of 10c will be charged.

The Normal News for Nov. is well under way, and will be issued about the general rejoicing over the fine line of November 15th. It will contain a very interesting article by Prof. W. H. the splendor available, at this season of Brooks, concerning the extensive western trip he took this summer,

The Ladies' Literary Club will meet next Wednesday, at 3 P. M., with Mrs. Higley, S. Huron street. Program is as able to visit this show on Thursday, follows: Belfast to Glasgow; Geography of Scotland; Glasgow; Thomas Campbell: Glasgow to Ayr; Robert

The Ladies' Library Association will give a parlor lecture, next Wednesday evening at the residence of Prof. Daniel Putnam, on Forest Ave. The lecture will be delivered by Prof. A. Lodeman. A cordial invitation is extended to the

Since the fall rains began, some six or eight weeks ago, it has rained every Friday. That being our publication day tenberg, Violin virtuoso; Mme. Teresa has made us notice it. Whether the same thing will happen again this week or and Mr. Leon Keach, musical director not we connot say, but it certainly is and accompanist. raining now, Thursday afternoon, with little prospect of stopping.

The Ypsilanti COMMERCIAL proposes to give $10 in gold to the person who can Such performers will furnish a programme guess nearest to the number of beans in a one-quart Muson jar, but the editor by allowing nobody to guess who doesn't edly one of the strongest organization put up the cash for a year's subscription, -Detroit News.

ister to print the proceedings of the the engagement. Board and 1500 pamphlets, for $89.50. This is not over half of what the job is worth. Just why the Ann Arbor papers continue year after year to make the county a present of about $100 in this one matter, is something of a mystery.

We had the pleasure last Tuesday evening of hearing the Aronson Opera Company of the Casino Theater, New York, sing Erminie, in the Detroit Opera House. As is well known, B. F. Joslyn formerly of this city is now a soloist in this company, and Mrs. Richard Guise, formerly Miss Effle Chamberlain of Ypsilanti, one of the chorus. We would be pleased to speak particularly would be pleased to speak particularly us with the most excellent commends of the work done by Mr. Joslyn, but as tions from the best people in the large the Company is to be in Chicago shortly, when "Uncle Billy" will give him an extensive write-up, we restrain ourselves.

Harper's for November is an excellent number. The frontispiece is an illustration by Abbey of an old English song. C. H. Farnum contributes a pleasant arof the illustrations, "Old men in a row," is a wonderful study of faces. A very interesting article, "A Museum of the History of Paris" hard Countries of Paris "Lord Count History of Paris," by T. Childs, and one by Charles Gayarre on the "New Orleans Bench and Bar in 1823," make the number one of unusual historical importance. Richard Wheatley's sketch of the "New York Real Estate Exchange" is enriched by portraits of the Astors, A. J. Bleecker ond other noted new Yorkers. Mrs. Penell completes her charming papers on her "Journey to the Hebrides," which so roused the wrath of William Black. "In Far Lochaber," by far the most interesting of Black's recent novels, is completed as is Mr. Howell's new departure in novels, "Annie Kilburn." A. B. Ward contributes a bright paper on 'Invalidiam as a Fine Art." The editorial departments are fully up to the usual

Four foot wood wanted at this office. No. 506.

Enduring Hardness, or The Christian Warfare," is Mr. Beale's subject at the Congregational Church next Sunday morning. No evening service on account of the Bible Society meeting. Seats are free and all are welcome.

The League of American Wheelman numbers 15,000 members. The majority of the women who ride do so for the benefit of their health. There are a large number of them, though. Riding may be in dulged in whenever the ground is clear of snow and nine or ten months can gener ally be counted on for the sport. -A Writer in the N. Y. World.

Died.

Mr. Samuel Casey of Superior died Oct. 28th, in the 86th year of his age. Mr. Casey was one of the oldest pioneers of Washtenaw county. He leaves a wife and adopted son to mourn his loss. The funeral services were conducted the following Tuesday, by Rev. J. Venning, of the Ypsilanti Methodist church.

The Elections.

Onr readers are doubtless all familiar long ere this with the results of Tues-Lecture at Normal Hall to-night by day election. The victory for the Republicans was sweeping and complete. We give an account of all that is known at present on page six.

The entire Democratic ticket for Washtenaw county was elected by majorities of from 600 to 1100. Capt. Allen was re-elected Congressman in this district by an increased majority. Ypsilanti gave a majority for every Republican on the ticket except Powers.

Next Thursday,

The country is again deemed safe, and the Bazarette will celebrate with all of its patrons at the bright little store on Huron street, next Thursday. All patriotic inhabitants of this, and surrounding cities are invited to come and loin in new goods which will be displayed in all the year, in this uncertain climate. Ladies from the country especially invited to come and spend the day, and to bring their oldest children (and lunch). If not make up for lost time by going on both Friday and Saturday. Don't miss a good chance of being entertained and instructed.

A Great Concert.

The University Musical Society of Ann Arbor has secured for Monday evening, Nov. 26th, the Redpath Lyceum Grand Concert Company.

This company is made up of the following artists: Miss Emma Juch, prima-donna soprano; Miss Hope Glenn, contralto of the Nilsson Cocert Co.; Mr. Leopold Lich-Carreno, the world-renowned Pianiste;

These are soloists of whom it is hardly necessay to speak; they are all of national and European celebrity, and rank with the greatest names now before the public.

surpassing interest to musicians as well as to the general public. It is undoubt-The Board of Supervisors last week pasted efforts and by a fortunate combination of circumstances which rendered accepted the bid of the Ann Arbor Reg. the services of these artists available for

> The concert will be given in University Hall. Admission, with reserved seats, $1

German in Five Weeks Professor A. P. Haupt, A. M. so well known as the originator of a method by which he imparts a practical speaking, reading, and writing knowledge in a course of five weeks' most interestin lec-

Lost on Nov. 2nd between the P. O. and Hewitt & Champion's store, a lady's small gold watch. Monogram on back. Leave at Commercial office and receive Normal students are respectfully solicited to ease their weary brains by a picasing relaxation from severemental labors, by visiting the Bazarette Opening next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

To hire an experience Dry Goods salesman. None other may apply. Address Ypsilauti P. O., Box 1640.

Fat Stock Show at Chicago.

Special excursion tickets will be sold on Monday, Nov. 12, Wednesday 14th., Friday 16th. Monday 19th. Wednesday 12tst. and Friday 23rd. at one and one third fare for the round trip with fifty cents added for admission to show. Tickets good for five days, on all trains except the Limited Vestabulal express, No. 568.

RAPHAEL TUCK & SONS,

"Art Stationer." 298 Broadway, N. Y.

If you want a felt hat, save money by going to the Bee Hive.

As usual a souvenir will be given every visitor at the Bazarette Opening next Thursday.

PERSONAL

Miss Flora Parker is home from Detroit. Miss Fannie Long has returned from er visit in Detroit.

Miss Schwab of Spring Lake is the new telegraph operator at the Sanitarium. Howard Whitney who has been ill for over a month, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Leadley from Detroit are visiting C. F. Long of Forest

Miss Lena Cooper of North Lansing s visiting her friend Mrs. Carrie Jewell this week.

Harold F. Sayles will commence two weeks' evangelical work in Cleveland cext Sunday:

Prof. Earnest Pitkin of Brighton is making a week's visit with Ypsilanti hauling the trim models out on shore, to relatives and friends.

Mr. Geo. C. Smithe starts next Monday for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Missouri and Illinois.

Mrs. Hayes af La Grange, Ind., has been spending a few days of this week with Miss Lane and Mrs. Gilbert of Adams Mrs. Dr. Knickerbocker and baby Arthur started Wednesday to join her husband at their new home in Fertile, Mr. Lon Neat returned from a week's risit in Detroit Saturday evening accompanied by his friend Mr. George Billings

Prof. B. B. Morgan and sister Emma, Ann Arbor, visited their brother and aister, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Geer, last week. Miss Emma will remain some time.

Sunday, Oct. 28, the home of H. W. Geer was gladdened by the arrival of a boy. Is it surprising that the fond papa smiles seronely over his only voter?

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spencer of Carbondale, Pa., are visiting Mr. E. M. Spencer of Huron St. Mr. Spencer is cashier of the Miners' and Mechanics' Bank at Mrs. Richard Guise of the Aronson Opera Company which is singing this week in Detroit, spent several days in I psilanti, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Chamberlain of Oak street.

Allen Rutherford, Mr. J. H. Neff's little grandson was seriously scalded on his face and neck last Saturday by hot tea which was accidentally spilled on him. The doctors hope it will heal without leaving a scar.

Misses Nora Long, Jennie Forest, Gertrude Rorison, Bertha Goodison, Grace George, Lutie Lee, and Nora Babbitt, were induced by two bewitching young Burroughs: I did better than that, I took gentlemen to walk with them clear to Ann Arbor, last Saturday. The girls survived the ordeal.

One Swallow Does not Make a Summer Did she give a tender glance
When thy tongue refused to speak?
Let it not thy bilss enhance,
Nor for further glances seek;
One such look from maiden's eye
Is no pledge of constancy.

Did she call thee fond or dear, Sitting dreamily alone? Drive the echo from the ear, Be not tricked by one sweet tone; One such whisper does not prove That she yields thee all her love.

Did she heave a deep-drawn sigh
When thou bad'st a sad farewell?
Did a tear-drop dim her eye?
Yield not to to the potent spell;
One such tear or ling ring sigh Proves not she will love for aye.

From Year to Year. "One of Raphael Tuck and Sons' Calendars for the year 1889 is really a gem.
It is in book form, and designed by J.
Pauline Sunter, with completes by Helen M. Burnside. January shows two little girls who come timidly along drawing behind them a little wagon full of dolls; course of five weeks' most interestin lecture lessons, is arranging to give his course in Ypsilanti. He has leased rooms of D. C. Batchelder over the bank where his course will open on next Tuesday. course of five weeks' most interestin lecture lessons, is arranging to give his course in Ypsilanti. He has leased rooms of D. C. Batchelder over the bank where his course will open on next Tuesday at hours not as yet determined. Many of our most influential citizens have been at the professor's lectures in Detroit, through whose influence he has been induced to come here. We bespeak the professor much success as he comes to us with the most excellent commendations from the best people in the large cities in this country.

You'll find it Nov. 15th, at the Bazarette.

Always read our "Ad." on page 8.

Hee flive.

The oysters F. A. Oberst is receiving daily are the best, Try a can and be convinced.

Call at 27, Congressstreet, for all kinds of Sewing Machine Needles, repairs, and oil. White Sewing Machine Co.

" 'Nodding, nodding, to and fro, In the grass the daisies grow." "In December they depart, muffled up to protect themselves from the cold, their satchels on their arms; and as the hands of the clock point to midnight they say; "' We hope you have had a pleasant year." "The last part of the Calendar has a candle burnt almost to the bottom, and is just dying out, indicating the close of the year."

This charming Calendar Book for 1889 has 18 pages of color and monochrome illustrations, gold edged, silk cord and

A DAINTY GIFT-to be had at all firstclass stores throughout the United States, or mailed to any address on receipt of 50 cents. Address

Uncle Billy Talks to them of the passing of Summer.—Recollections of its Pleas. ure. The Cruise of the Amaranth,— Michigan my Michigan.

CHICAGO, Saturday afternoon. My DEAR Boys:-This letter is a reminiscence of summer. As I walked out to-day and met men, women and children, with their arms full of plants, little girls with plants in baskets, work ing men with plants in pails, ladies with plants in paper bundles, all coming from the parks where the geraniums and other flowers that have beautified these grounds all the season have been turned over to the people to help themselves be fore Jack Frost asserts his sway; as I passed the yacht-club anchorage where the men with blocks and tackle were lie there till six months go by, I realized how nearly the winter is upon us. This bright day after the bluster and darkness of the past week, is as though summer, when she left us, thought again, and repenting of her rude departure came back to kiss us a farewell; and now-smiling tenderly and full of regret, she lingers with us for a season before she's gone indeed. As you grow older and see each bright summer one less of those you shall enjoy, you will get to love it more and more, and to look upon these last autumnal days with a reluctant feeling that you can't describe. A feeling put in words by Tennyson when he speaks of Tears, idle tears," that "Bise in the heart and gather to the eyes, In looking on the pleasant autumn fields, And thinking of the days that are no more."

In this good-bye to summer come recollections of the things she brought, and most of all, remembrances of a journey of which I have been eager to tell you for a long time, but never had an opportunity. That is, a trip about the Sault:

Now a very lovable man who has writ ten some delightful books about rambles through woods and fields, John Burroughs, says somewhere, when he is giving directions to his friend who wants to learn how to enjoy the beauties of nature. 'Go alone, or take a boy!" It is quite likely that you will not appreciate the full value of this advice. But after you have been forced to travel with the so-called 'cultured' people, who are always laboring to show how much they know, who insist on telling how things are on the Atlantic or on the Rhine, who are never surprised at anything, and who ought to have died before they saw so much, you will recognize how much pleasure there is in a trip where you can have a liberal allowanbe of clear, unadulterated boy. ''Take a boy'' says Mr a half a dozen. Where we went and what we did shall constitute this letter, and if I can throw upon you even a re flection of the bright spirit of interest and fun that lit up our cruise, I shall feel well repaid.

The Amaranth is a two-masted vacht twenty-eight feet long, about the size of the Adelaids in which our Ypsi, boys went sailing in June. If you had been a sea gull amongst those that flew over the deck of a large vessel in upper Lake Huron one fine evening last August, you would have seen five boys reclining in various apparently impossible, but nevrtheless comfortable positions the deck, reading. There is a noise that comes up from the hold of that same ship, and up those five hove jump and clamber down the ladder to that ever welcome diversion, supper. The two boys who have been detailed to cook this day, have set up the sheet-iron stove down there away from the windy deck, and have prepared a sayory meal which the clear lake air by its influence upon the appetite will make more savor still. There is steaming hot soup, boiled corn on the cob, potatoes soft and white, bread to make a young housekeeper des pair of ever learning how to make as good, cookies, the joy of every boy's heart, cocoa to drink, or pure lake water, as you prefer, and a great blushing ripe melon that makes your mouth water. Here was a banquet fit for a king, and never were prince and noble in a hap pier, jollier mood than the seven hungry boys from Michigan who sit before a fresh and yellow pine plank across two barrels, with the bright blue sky show ing through the open hatchways in that empty hold whose long, oak ribbed expanse, rivals the great timber-arched hall of William Rufus. This was the fourth day we had been on board this vessel since leaving Detroit, and in a short time we were to leave it; for right ahead, only a few miles away, with thickly wooded crown, rose Drummond's Island, at the entrance to Georgian Bay; and west of that lay the passage or detour that led us to our first stopping place. So you, if still soaring over our heads, would see us bustling to collect our baggage from the various parts of the ship and lay them near the main hatch in a pile. The Amaranth, which, blocked with pieces of timber stands on the deck, is hoisted up and over the rail by tackle from the rigging and then let down until she's in the water. Over the side go Tom and Dick and Hal, then Jo and Jack and Bill pass down the bundles, bedquilts, guns, fish-(Continued on page eight.)

YPSILANTI BOYS

HARRIS BROS. & CO.

If you like a good cup of Coffee try our REVERE JAVA and BLEND.

TYCOON TEA HOUSE.

A Fine All Wool Dress for $3.

We are selling a 25 inch Dress Flannel For 50 cents per yard, that was sold last year for 90c. This cannot be bought in any other place now for less than 75c. It is the best bargain we have ever offered and would like everyone to call in and see it. Six yards makes a full dress pattern.

E. M. Comstock & Co.

We have the best $25, plush cloak in town.

NORMAL * STUDENTS

___ Look to your interest and buy ___

WOOD and COAL!

Where you will get SOUND WOOD, FULL MEASURE, and a BUNCH OF LIST-ING with every half cord of wood at

SAMSON'S WOOD YARD

Only One Block East of the Normal. ON CROSS ST.

PER CENT

One Hundred Pairs of LADIES' FINE SAMPLE SHOES

In Sizes 3 and 3 1-2, Widths B and C.

Your Shoe Dealer.

Dreşş Making I

Miss Middagh wishes to announce to the Public that she is now prepared to do DRESS MAKING in a Neat and Substantial style at very Reasonable

Cor. Ballard and Olive Streets.

TO RENT!

House with Barn on Huron St. Inquire of Philo Ferrier & Son.

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab

By FERGUS W. HUME

CHAPTER XIIL

MADGE MAKES A DISCOVERY. Madge stepped into the cab, and Calton paused a moment to tell the cabman to drive to the railway station, when she stopped him.

"Tell him to drive to Brian's lodgings in Powlett street," she said, laying her hand on "What for!" asked the lawyer, in astonish-

"And also to go past the Melbourne club, as I want to stop there."
"What the deuce does she mean?" muttered

Calton, as he gave the necessary orders and stepped into the cab.

"And now," he asked, looking at his companion, who had let down her veil, while the cab rattled quickly down the street, "what do you intend to dor". She threw back her veil, and he was aston-ished to see the sudden change which had come over her. There were no tears now, and her eyes were hard and glittering, while her mouth was firmly closed. She looked like a woman who had determined to do a certain thing, and would carry out her intentions at whatever cost.

"I am going to save Brian in spite of himself," she said very distinctly.

"Simply this," she answered. "In the first place, I may tell you that I do not under-stand Brian's statement that he keeps silence for my sake as there are no secrets in my life that can justify him saying so, but the facts of the case are simply these: Brian, on the night in question, left our place, at St. Kilds, at 11 o'clock. He told me he would call at the club to see if there were any let-ters for him, and then go straight home."
"But he might have said that merely as a

Madge shook her head.

"No, I don't think so. I never asked him where he was going, and he told me quite spontaneously. I know Brian's character, spontaneously. and he would not go and tell a deliberate lie especially when there was no necessity for it. I am quite certain that he intended to do as he said, and go straight home. When he got to the club he found a letter there, which

"But who did he receive the letter from?"
"Can't you guess?" she said, impatiently.
"From the person, man or woman, who wanted to see him and reveal this secret about me, whatever it is. He got the letter at his club and went down Collins street to meet the writer. At the corner of the Scotch church he found Mr. Whyte, and on recognizing him left in disgust and walked down Russell street to keep his appointment."
"Then you don't think he came back?"

"I am certain he did not, for, as Brian told you, there are plenty of young men who wear the same kind of coat and hat as he Who the second man who got into the cab was I do not know, but I will swear that

"And you are going to look for that letter?
"Yes, in Brian's lodgings."
"He might have burnt it."

"He might have done a thousand things, but he did not," she answered. "Brian is the most careless man in the world; he would put the letter into his pocket, or throw it into the waste paper basket and never think of it

"In this case he did, however."
"Yes, he thought of the conversation he had with the writer, but not of the letter it-self. Depend upon it, we will find it in his desk, or in one of the pockets of the clothes he wore that night."——
"Then there's another thing," said Calton, thoughtfully. "The letter might have been delivered to him between the Elizabeth street railway station and the club."

"We can soon find out about that," answered Madge; "for Mr. Rolleston was with "So he was," answered Calton; "and here is Rolleston coming down the street. We'll

The cab was just passing the Burke and Wills monument, and Calton's quick eye had caught a glimpse of Rolleston coming down the street on the left hand side. The cab drove up to the curbing, and Rolleston stopped short, as Calton sprang out directly in front of him. Madge lay back in the cab and pulled down her veil, not wishing to he recognized by Felix, as she knew that if he did it would soon be all over town.

"Hallot old chap," said Rolleston, in considerable astonishment. "Where did you "From the cab, of course." answered Calton, with a laugh.

"A kind of Deus ex machina," replied Rolleston, attempting a bad pun.

"Exactly," said Calton. "Look here, Rolleston, do you remember the night of Whyte's murder—you met Fitzgerald at the railway statiou!" "In the train," corrected Felix. 'Well, well; no matter, you came up with him to the club."

"Yes, and left him there."

"Did you notice if he received any message while he was with you?" "Any message" repeated Felix. "No, he did not; we were talking together the whole time, and he spoke to no one but me."

"Was he in good spirital" "Excellent; made me laugh awfully-but why all this thusness?"

"Oh, nothing," answered Calton, getting back into the cab. "I wanted a little information from you, Pil explain next time I see you. Good-by."
"But I say," legan Felix, but the cab had already rattled away, so Mr. Rolleston turned angrily away.

"I never saw anything like these lawyers," he said to himself. "Calton's a perfect whirl-

Meanwhile Calton was talking to Madge. "You were right," he said, "there must have been a message for him at the club, for he got none from the time he left your

"And what shall we do now?" asked Madge, who, having heard all the conversation, did not trouble about questioning the lawyer about it.

"Find out at the club if any letter was waiting for him on that night," said Calton, as the cab stopped at the door of the Melbourne club. "Here we are," and with a hasty word to Madge, he ran up the steps. To want to the office of the cinb to find ous if any iesters had been whiting for Fibs-gerald, and be frund things a waiter with whom he was pretty well acquainted.

"Look here, Brown," said the lawyer, "do you remember on that Thursday night when the hansom can murder took place if any letters were waiting here for Mr. Fitzgerald?"
"Well, really, sir," hesitated Brown, "it's so long ago that I almost forget."

Calton gave him a sovereign.

"Oh! it's not that, Mr. Calton," said the "Oh! it's not that, Mr. Calton," said the waiter, pocketing the coin, nevertheless. "But I really do forget."
"Try and remember," said Calton, shortly. Brown made a tremendous effort of memory, and at last gave a satisfactory answer.
"No, sir, there were none!"
"Are you sure?" said Calton, feeling a thrill of disappointment.
"Quite sure, sir," replied the other, confidently. "I went to the letter rack several times that night, and I am sure there were times that night, and I am sure there were none for Mr. Fitzgerald." "Ah! I thought as much," said Calton.

heaving a sigh.
"Stop!" said Brown, as though struck with a sudden idea. "Though there was no letter came by post, sir, there was one brought to him on that night,"

"Ahi" said Calton, turning sharply, "At what time?"

"Just before 12 o'clock, sir." "Who brought it?"

"A young woman, sir," said Brown, in a tone of disgust. "A bold thing, beggin' your pardon, sir; and no better than she ould be. She bounded in at the door as bold as brass, and sings out, 'Is he in?' out, I says, or I'll call the perice. 'Oh no, you won't, says she: 'You'll give him that,' and she shoves a letter in my handa. 'Who's himf I asks. 'I dunno,' she answers. 'It's written there, and I can't read; give it him at once.' And then she clears out before I "And the letter was for Mr. Pitzgerald?" "Yes, sir, and a precious dirty letter !s was, too."

"You gave it to him, of course?" "I did, sir. He was playing cards and he put it in his pocket, after having looked at the outside of it, and went on with his

"Didn't be open it?"

"Not then, sir: but he did later on, about a quarter to 1 o'clock. I was in the room, and he opens it and reads it. Then he says to himself, 'What d-d impertinence,' puts it into his pocket."

Was be disturbed?" "Well, sir, he looked angry like, and put his coat and hat on and walked out about five minutes to 1."

"Ah! and he met Whyte at 1," muttered Calton. "There's no doubt about it. The letter was an appointment, and he was going to keep it. What kind of a letter was it?" he

"Very dirty, sir, in a square envelope; but the paper was good, and so was the writing."
"That will do," said Calton; "I am much obliged to you," and he hurried down to where Madge awaited him in the cab.

"You were right," he said to her, when "You were right," he said to her, when the cab was once more in motion. "He got a letter on that night, and went to keep his appointment at the time he met Whyte."

"I knew it," cried Madge with delight. "You see, we will find it in his lodgings."
"I hope so," answered Calton; "but we must not be too sanguine; he may have destroyed it."

"No, he has not," she replied; "I am con-vinced it is there."

"Well," answered Calton, looking at her, 'I won't contradict you, for your feminine instincts have done more to discover the truth than my reasonings; but that is often the case with women—they jump in the dark where a man would hesitate, and in nine cases out of ten land safely."
"Alas for the tenth!" said Miss Frettlby.

"She has to be the one exception to prove the

She had in a great measure recovered her spirits, and seemed confident that she would save her lover. But Mr. Calton saw that her nerves were strung up to the highest pitch and that it was only her strong will that kept and that it was only her strong will that kept her from breaking down altogether.

"By Jove," he muttered, in an admiring tone, as he watched her, "she's a plucky girl, and Fitzgerald is a lucky man to have a woman like that in love with him."

—They soon arrived at Brian's lodgings, and the door was opened by Mrs. Sampson, who looked very disconsulate indeed. The poor looked very disconsolate indeed. The poor cricket had been blaming herself severely for the information she had given to the false insurance agent, and the floods of tears which she had wept had apparently had an effect on her physical condition, for she crackled less loudly than usual, though her voice was as shrill as ever.

"That sich a thing should 'ave 'appened to 'im," she walled, in her thin, high voice, "An' me that proud of 'im, not 'avin' any family of my own, except one as died an went up to 'eaving arter'is father, which I 'opes as they both are now angels, an' frienly, as 'is nature 'ad not developed in this valley of the shadder to determine 'is feelin's towards 'is father when 'e died, bein' carried off by a chill, caused by the change from 'ot to cold, the weather bein' that contrary." They had arrived at Brian's sitting room by this time, and Madge sank into a chair. while Calton, anxious to begin the search said rather impatiently, as he opened the door for her: "Leave us for a short time, there's a good soul; Miss Frettlby and I want to have a rest, and we will ring for you when we are going."

"Thank you, sir," said the lachrymose landlady, "an' I 'opes they won't 'ang 'im, which is such a choky way of dyin'; but in life we are in death," she went on, rather incoherently, "as is well known to them as 'as diseases, an' may be corpsed at any minute,

Here Calton, unable to restrain his impatience any longer, shut the door, and they heard Mrs. Sampson's shrill voice and subdued cracklings die away in the distance.

"Now then," he said, "now that we have got rid of that woman and her tongue, where are we to begin!"

"The desk," replied Madre, going over to it; "it's the most likely place."

The letter, however, was not to be found in the desk, nor was it in the sitting room; they tried the bedroom, but with no better result; so Madge was nearly giving up the search in despair, when suddenly Calton's eye tell on the waste paper basket, which, by some unaccountable reason, they had over-looked in their search. The basket was half full, and, on looking at it, a sudden thought struck the lawyer. He rang the bell, and suddenly Mrs. Sampson made her appear-"How long has that waste paper basket been standing like that?" he asked, pointing

"It bein' the only fault I 'ad to find with 'im," said Mrs. Sampson, "''s bein' that untildy that 'e a never let me clean it out until 's told me pussonly. 'E said as 'ow 's throwed things into it as 's might 'ave to look up again; an' I 'aven't touched it for more nor six weeks, 'opin' you won't think me a bad bousekeeper, it bein' 'isown wish—bein' fond

"Bix weeks," repeated Calton, with a look at Madge. "Ah, and he got the letter four weeks ago. Depend upon it, we shall find it there."

Madge gave a cry, and, falling on her knees, emptied the backet out on the floor, and both she and Callon were soon as busy pinong the fragm is of paper as though they

Suddenly a cry broke from Madge, as she drew out of the mass of paper a half burnt letter, written on thick and creamy looking

She drew out a half burnt letter, "At last," she cried, rising off her knees, and smoothing it out, "I knew he had not destroyed it."

"Pretty nearly, however," said Carlton, as his eye glanced rapidly over it; "it's almost useless as it is, seeing there's no name to it." He took it over to the window and spread it out upon the table. It was dirty, and half burnt, but still it was a clew. The above is a fac simile of the letter.

"There's not much to be gained from that, "There's not much to be gained from the print and madge, andly. "It shows he had an appointment—but where!"

Carlton did not answer, but, leaning his head on his hands, stared hard at the paper.

At last he jumped up with a cry—
"I have it," he said in an excited tone. Look at that paper; see how creamy and white it is, and, above all, look at the printing in the corner-'OT VILLA, OORAK." "Then he went down to Toorak!"

"In an hour, and back again—hardly." "Then it was not written from Toorak?"

"No, it was written in one of the Melbourne

ack slums." "How do you know!" "Look at the girl who brought it," said Calton, quickly. "A disreputable woman, one far more likely to come from the back sinus than Toorak. As to the paper, three months ago there was a robbery at Toorak, and this is some of the paper that was stolen by the

Madge said nothing, but her sparkling eyes and nervous trembling of the hands showed her excitement.

"I will see a detective this evening," Salton, exultingly, "find out where this let-ter came from and go and see who wrote it. We'll save him yet," he said, placing the precious letter carefully in his pocketbook.
"You think that you will be able to find the woman who wrote that?"

"Hum," said the lawyer, looking thoughtful, "she may be dead, as the letter says she is in a dying condition. However, if I can find the woman who delivered the letter at the club, and who waited for Fitzgereld at the corper of Bourke and Russell streets, that will be sufficient. All I want to prove is that he was not in the hansom cab with

"And do you think you can do that?"
"Depends upon this letter," said Calton, enigmatically tapping his pocketbook with his finger. "I'll tell you to-morrow." his finger. "I'll tell you to-morrow."

Shortly afterward they left the house, and when Calton put Madge safely into the St. Kilda train her heart felt lighter than it had done since Fitzgerald's arrest.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Admiral Semmes and Ah Sin. I remember an amusing anecdote, showing the business quickness of "Ah Sin," told me by the late Sir Whampoa, a rich Chinaman of Singapore, who was knighted by Queen Victoria for his services to the British navy. Singapore, it will be remembered, was a favorite stopping place for Admiral Semmes and the Alabama. Whampon's business was that of a naval contractor, and he generally supplied Semmes with stores, and thus the two men got acquainted. Semmes was very quick at figures, and was proud of his gift in that line. Now the Chinese in all their calculations use a machine called an abacus which resembles an old fashioned multiplication table on wires. It is a clumsy instru tions in the hands of an expert.

As the two men were reckoning up their counts. Semmes exclaimed "Whampoa, why do you persist in using that stupid abacus?" The Chinaman replied by laying a wager that Semmes could propose any mathematical problem he chose, each to work it out his own way, and that he (Whampoa) would get the right answer first, "Done!" cried Semmes. The problem was given, and Semmes began to scribble and figure, while the old Chinaman's fingers rattled over his abacus. In an incredibly short time Whampon stopped and declared the answer. Semmes looked up astonished then, tearing up his paper, he exclaimed in tones of the deepest disgust, "Beaten, by —, and by a Chinamani" Semmes was not the only smart "white man" that has had to admit the same fact.—Once a Week.

Egyptian Tobacco Condemned. A great many English newspapers and a large number of their correspondents are carnestly condemning Egyptian tobacco and the doctored cigarettes made in Cairo and London therefrom. It is contended that a large number of cases of mouth diseases have resulted from the use of these cigarettes, and resulted from the use of these experiences the discussion, which is becoming hot and interesting, will very likely result in serious federate to the extern to become trade.—Cilicate

NEW CURRENT TESTIMONY.

T Yours. Chienge, Ill., May St, 1888.

I was given up by dectors 2 years age and held to not a switch low finding Educations confered about 7 years airst application St. Jisoba Oil relieved, www.bettlee etred. 62002 A. ADSE.

Doctors Failed. , Wrening, III., May 12, '82.
Sufered with Scinice about three years age tried dectors without railet. Tried three applications of St. decide Oil and was creed. Re revenof pain.

ELIAS S. TEXTUR.

Bed-ridden, Beaver Dam, Wia, May 19, '82.

Spring of 1887 was taken with Sciation; extendtwo meetics, was confined to bed; tried coveral destars without benefit. Wed St. Jacobs Off and was card.

JARVESTE WEEKS. No licturn. Festias, III., May 23, 1888.

I was taken with Rhormation in the hip and limbs about aight ments age and was cared by its Jacobs Gill not the least return of pain.

MES. AMELIA TOWN.

demagnoss. Wise, Palue De., Dilnois, Pane, TS,
Three or four years age was taken with innesses.

In hip, was in hed part of then; tried several descrived without beauti, was wared by three or few applications of St. Jasobs Oll WM. RARPES.

AT DECOMISTS AND DEALES.

THE DIAMONDS.

Uncle Meriwether never liked Eustace. He never did him justice from the begin-nig, and when he heard that I was actu-ally engaged to him he spoke in such a way that I declared I would not endure

"I am old enough, I hope, to choose for myself," said L "I don't know about that, Patty," said ny uncle, shrugging his shoulders. But I remained to hear no more, I flounced back into the house, slamming the door in Uncle Meriwether's honest speciacied face, and bursting into tears as soon as I reached the sitting room.

"It's a shame," said my sister Elspeth.
"Don't bry, Patty, I'm sure the whole matter is transparent enough. Uncle Meriwether wouldn't be so domineering about it if he did not want you to marry

"I wouldn't marry Paul Meriwether if there wasn't another man in the world,' said I, victously. "And I'll marry Eustace Dalzell anyhow, now. Uncle Meriwether says we don't know anything about him, but I'm sure we know enough."

That was a laise assertion on my part. I only knew of my handsome flance what he himself had chosen to tell me—namely, that he was a New York engineer, staying down at Wraysgeld a few weeks for his health. And his friend, Mr. Belfield, was a stock broker. Oh, how I wished Mr. Helfield might take a fancy to hispeth. It would be so nice to be married at the same time—to go together and live in New York!

New York!
We lived together in the lonely old brick house on the edge of the moor, so that I was very glad when Olive Oatley came down from Binchester to visit us and brought her wedding set of diamonds to show

Elepeth and I looked with awe and ad-

Elepeth and I looked with awe and admiration at the sparkling gems—necklade, carrings and brooch.

"Are they very valuable," I asked.

"Three thousand dollars, I believe," said Olive, complacently. "They belonged to Herbert's mother, and they are to be reset before I wear them."

But just then Lispeth gave a start and turned scarlet, and following the direction of her eye I turned and beheld Eustace Dalzell standing smiling in the doorway, with his last in his hand.

Somehow the diamonds made me nervous, and I could not help, in the course ous, and I could not help, in the course of the evening, confiding my vague terrors to Eustace. But Eustace laughed at me, and made light of my fears.

Eustace Dalzell went home earlier than sual that night. In my perturbation I had almost resolved to ask him to remain all night, a self-constituted guardian of our treasures, but I did not venture to do so, and so at 10 o'clock we three girls, with Dinah in the kitchen, were left to our-

Scives.

I had intended to lie awake all night, but I must have fallen into a light doze without being aware of it, for the clock was striking 12 when I started up at the loud peal of the door-bell below. Olive was at my side in an instant. Elspeth had her arm around me and even lingh had her arm around me, and even Dinah hobbled in with a flaring lamp in her "Go to the door, do, someof you," cried I, hysterically. "Ask who it is. Ask what they want."

And while Olive, Elspeth, and the old attendant obeyed my beliest I hurriedly threw on my white dressing gown and went to the head of the stairs to li ten, for I felt that in an emergency like this some one ought to keep close to the dissome one ought to keep close to the diamoeds.

"There is no one here," I heard Elspeth say, after the bolts and bars of the front door were withdrawn.

"Yes, there is. I hear some one groaning at the other end of the veranda," persisted Dinah. "Oh dear, the draught has blown out my candle. This way, Miss Oatley, please—I'm afraid ther's been an accident or something."

The next minu e the heavy oaken door blow shut with a bang, it was self-fasten-blow shut with a bang. It was self-fasten-ing on the inside. I was all alone in the

A rustle under the vines that draped the north side of the house—a low whistle, and I could hear a voice saying in suppressed accents:
"They're safe enough outside, all three of 'em. Now's your time. Quick!"

It all fiashed upon my mind in a second—the sturdy boughs of the Wistaria, which afforded so easy a ladder for an aspiring burglar to reach Olive's window—the over resement—the diamonds lying —the open casement—the diamonds lying underneath her pillow. My worst fears had come true, and seizing the six-barreled little pistol I rushed into the room just in time to see a tall figure with a musk over its face apring into the window and steal with cat like motion across the room.

As his hand lay on the tiny canyas bag containing the precious jewels I raised the pistol and fired. At the same moment a muttered oath, mingled with a cry, sounded in my cars and the sound of something falling shook the beams of the floor.

I am not one of the fainting kind, but for a minute or two I stood motionless. Then springing down stairs I admitted the three eager women who were huddled at the door.

"I've shot him! I've killed him," was all that I could say. "Run up stairs, Dinah, and see if—if he is dead."

Dinah, and see if—if he is dead,."

But Dinah would not go alone, so we all hurried up in a crowd—and there, half sitting, half-lying against the bed post, with the canvas bag fallen to the floor beside him, and a red pool of blood under his right shoulder blade was—Eustaco Dalzell.

Of course we went for help to the pear.

Of course we went for help to the near est neighbors; of course we delivered my gallant lover, who was not fatally injured, over to the police, by whom he was recog-nized as an old jail-bird, luxuriating in a new name.

Started with Fire Cents.

Rearted with Five Cents.

Roas Wise, a young girl of Meridan,
Miss, had 5 cents given to her as a joke for a birthday present. She bought a yard of calico with it and made a sunbonnet, which she sold for 40 cents.
This she invested in more calico, made it up, sold the garments, and reinvested the capital until she had 10. With this she bought potatoes, planted them, paid for the cultivation of her crop, for gathering and carting to town, and made $50 clean profit.

At This Time o' Year.

At This Time of Year.

There had been a runaway. A pair of horses were down, a carriage amashed te pleces, and the driver and a lady lay groaning on the grass with their hurts. The street car stopped and many got off to render aid. Among those who stood on the rear platform were two young ladies, one of whom held up her hands in holy horror and exclaimed:

"Mercy on met but what an awful.

"Mercy on mel but what an awful awful affair! How long did you say yor belled your grape jelly, Mrs. Smith;"

E-Click House Blook,

THE ONLY Brilliant C Durable

Economical Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of sheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.

16 colors: 10 cents each. Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photon, making the finest Ink or Bluing (10 cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

Por Gilding or Bronsing Pancy Articles, USE DIAMOND PAINTS. Gold, Sliver, Bronze, Copper, Only to Cents.

CELERY Paine's COMPOUND CURES PROOFS "Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headaches."

Mrs. L. A. Hernermen
San Jacinto, Cal. Neuralgia Nervous "After using six bot-ties of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheamatism," Samual HUTCHINSON, South Cornish, N. H. Prostration Rheumatism "It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medi-cine." GRO. ARBOTT, Sloux City, Iowa. Kidney Diseases "Paine's Celery Com-pound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and billous-ness." ELIZABETH C. UDALL, Quechee, Vt. All Liver Disorders

Fall & Winter Campaign

New Books for the Union, Books and Stationery for all,

OVER ONE HUNDRED SYTLES of Pads and Note Books.

--- ALSO ----

AT ALL PRICES,

From one to fifty cents. Students are cordially invited to call

AT SAMSON'S,

On Congress St.

Where they will find a very Large Stock of New and Scond Hand Books, and Prices the Lowest.

Huron St. Hardware. Chas. Norton,

Successor to J. H. Sampson.

Huron Street, Opposite Sanitarium

Heavy, & Shelf Hardwre,

STOVES, Cutlery, Tools Fence, Wire, Etc.

Everething regarding quality and prices of goods fidence of the public.

Wallace & Clarke. No. 5, Union Block.

If you want a

Bedroom Set, Parlor Suit, Wire Mattress, Baby Cab, Patent Rocker, Lace Curtain, your sofa upholstered or anything in the furniture line call on Wallace & Clarke.

Headquarters!

-FOR FINE-

Candies, Nuts, and Fruits. The largest, Cheapest and most complete Stock of Candy in the City. Price to suit

F.A. OBERST.

Near Depot

Commission of the Commission o

CALEB'S INHERITANCE.

International Sunday-School Lesson for November 11, 1888. [Specially arranged from S. S. Quarterly.]

LESSON TEXT—Tosh. 14: 5-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.—Ps. 57:3.
CENTRAL TRUTH—Faithfulness shall be rewarded in due time.

Time-B. C. 1444-5. More than six years ATMEND. O. 1997.0. More than the Joseph after the last lesson (comp. vs. 7 and 10).
Place—Gilgal, near Jericho, west of the Jordan, the first encampment of the Israelites in Canaan.

JOSHUA—Now about eighty-five years old.
CIRCUMSTANCES—During six years Joshua and the people had been conquering Canaan, and the work was substantially done, so that the time had come to divide the territory among the tribes.

HELPS OVER HARD PLACES.—5, As the Lord commanded: (Num. 84:16-29), Divided the Land: as described in the following chapters. 6. Coleb: a prince of Judah, first mentioned as one of the spies (Num. 13:6). Kadesh-barnea; the headquarters of Israel in the wilderness for thirty-eight years. Forty years old: therefore he was over thirtyeight years at the time of the Exodus. I brought him word: Caleb's faithful and noble action is described in Num. 13 and 14 (see Less. 10, 8d Quar.). As it was in mine heart: made a true and honest statement as it was in my heart; spake sincerely; uttered the real sentiments of my heart. It has been remarked that Caleb's name signifies, acording to the heart. The other spies spoke no less from their heart than he did from his. But their hearts were not right with God; and although they did speak from their and although they did speak from their hearts, they spoke wrongly and falsely, because their was a disharmony between their spirits and the Spirit of God. 9. Moses scare on that day (see Num. 14:24; Dout. 1:26). Surely the land whereon thy feet have trooden shall be thine inheritance: forty-five years before he had gone into this land, and it had been promised him. He had, as it were, taken the deed of the land, but not taken possession. Why was the fulfilment so long delayed? Because its fulfilment before this would have been of no use to him, or long delayed? Because its fulfillment before this would have been of no use to him, or worse than useless. He could not have en-joyed the land till it was conquered by the Israelites. So the fulfillment of many a promise has been delayed, because we were not prepared to receive it. or it would have been no blessing had it come sooner. The delay also is a test of our faith, to prove whether we will wholly follow the Lord. Only to such can the best blessings come. 10. These forty-five years: from this we learn that Joshua had been over six years in con-quering Canaan. For it was thirty-eight and a half years after his going as a spy when Israel entered Canaan. 11. To go out and . . . in: to attend to his duties. 12.

This mountain: highlands, mountainous region. Anakim: a race of giants. Fenced; fortified. 14. Hebron: twenty miles south of Jerusalem, a most beautiful and fertile place. From this region came the grapes of Eshcol (Num. 13:23, 24). 15. Kirjath-arba: city of Arba, a giant who had conquered the COMMENTS—Our lesson to-day carries us back forty-five years. It reminds us of the sad experience of the spies, and the fate of those who brought an adverse report of the land of promiss. The ten had for years been in their graves, while the two had brought a good report of the land were still alive and well. Of these two Caleb was one, and in our lesson we see him asking for the permission to possess that part of the land that mission to possess that part of the land that Moses had promised to him. Caleb was now eighty-five years of age, and yet he was hale and hearty. He was full of courage as well, for the part of the land that he now claimed was still in the possession of the enemy, and he was only asking for permission to go to war with them and drive them out. So Joshus blessed him and gave him the desired permission, and he went shead and conquered the territory that had been given to him forty-five years before that.

The foundation of the grand character of Caleb all lay in the fact that he wholly followed the Lord. To follow the Lord under some circumstances is not so very difficult a thing. When every thing is in favor of such fidelity, and friends stand around ready to help, it is comparatively easy to live a Christian life. But this was not the case with tian life. But this was not the case with Caleb. He stood firm when all around him were giving way to the temptation to robel against God. In fact, millions were on the one side, and only he and Joshua with a very few others on the other. Yet, in spite of this, he never wavered for a moment. More than this. He had to wait for the fulfilment of the promise of God for a long time. We are sometimes impatient because we do not cot, what we want in a because we do not get what we want in a year's time. But this man had to wait for forty-five years. Yet, in all this period, he seems never to have wavered for an instant. His faith was equal to every emergency and carried him through grandly. We even make the case stronger than For when they came to the land itself, the part that was promised to him had still to be conquered. If he had been like those other men, he would certainly have taken to murmuring, and have said that it was rath er hard to wait for forty-five years, and then to have to fight for his possession. But the spirit of this man was very different from that of the others. He accepted the promise, waited patiently for its fulfilment and then went shead and (so to speak) fulfilled it himself.

If there is one lesson that our young peo that of steadfast continuance in well-doing. We are all in too great a hurry to succeed. We want to sow to-day, and reap to-morrow. To wait for the result of our effort is row. To wait for the result of our effort is irksome, and there are many who are not willing to do this. "No cross, no crown," is a proverb that they do not like. "He that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved," is not a popular saying. You there is not much in this world that is worth the having that can be gotten for nothing. All of the best things cost labor, and the better a thing is, as a rule, the more labor it will cost.—Rev. A. F. Schauffer.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

1. Faithfuiness in early life reaps a large reward in later years. /

2. "Wholly following the Lord" is the way to the best character, the largest usefulness, the truest success. 8. The fulfilment of God's promises is sometimes delayed, but is sure.

4. God has given us many blessings to inherit in this world and in the world to come.

5. But there are "Anakim" in the inheritance—worldiness, temptation, the evil in our hearts, outward opposition.

6. We can possess our full inheritance only when we have overcome these by the help of God.

He who speaks ill of himself is praised

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Haby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she oried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Costoria, When she nad Children, she gave them Castoria

RELIGIOUS READING.

A MOTHER'S PRAYERS.

A curly head upon my bosom rests: In twilight dim, while evening breezes blow, I tell the oft-repented stories o'er, Or sing some jullaby softly and low; Ose dimpled arm around my neek is thrown, Two violet eyes gaze eager in my face. And eatch each word and tone that from my

Falls, on that plaistic mind to leave their

But 'mid the simple story or the song, Running in concord e'er, grave thoughts and fears
Keep time, until the mother-love wells up,
And drops upon the baby face in tears!
"Ab, who will guide, and what the ills beset,
When from a mother's sheltering arms and

Your boy!" they say. "In the wide world of sin, Where will his wandering footsteps tend, ab,

And in our heart's most sacred temple kneels And in our heart's most sacred temple kneels. Our soul in carnest prayer for light to guide. That we the immortal spirit train for God. That 'neath His care our boy may e'er abide; That 'mid the world's temptations and its strife. These little feet may never go astray. But upward, onward to the Heavenward.

They ever tend, and lead the unerring way.

O mothers, we must watch, and we must pray;

Over these priceless gifts keep guard, control, That sin and error mar not nor defile The pure, unsuilled tablet of the soul; No human power like ours the whole earth furied: mother's influence makes or mars the man The hand that rocks the cradle rules the yields, He ne'er will doubt or scorn a mother's love.

Whatever depths or heights his feet may gain No depth so low, no height so lofty rears, That shall dispel from heart or wearied brain The sacred memory of a mother's prayers !

The honored brow that wears the wreath of The statesman with his years of carking care.

The hero of the battle-field whose praise

The millions shout with torch and trumpet blare.

The felon in his dungeon—each shall hold

Within his soul one niche round which ap-

A lingering halo e'er, however dimmed—
It is the memory of a mother's prayers!
—Illustrated Christian Weskly.

WORRY.

The Futility and Foolishness of Over-Anxiety.

Worry is undoubtedly the bane of our modern life. Much of it is brought on by artificial wants and aiming for that which one's resources and income do not warrant, but a great deal of it is altogether unconnected with inordinate ambition or covetousness. To provide things honest is a problem for many Christian people; to secure the welfare of a household is not a "charge of small import;" and to bear up manfully amid the disasters and disappointments of business life is more than many Christians seem to have capacity for. Yet, with all this, it may be well sometimes to think of the futility and foolishness of that over-anxiety in which so many indulge and which keeps them in a whirl of worry. There are precautions which it is right to take to ward off evil, but it is well for us to remember to how large an extent things are utterly beyond our control, and how impossible it is for us to revolutionize them in our own mind. Much that causes us annoyance would be different had we foreseen the future. Could we go back in life thirty or forty years with the knowledge we have gained of our errors and miscalculations, we could undoubtedly put things in much better trim; but the past, however much we may profit by its teachings, can not be rectified. It is fixed, or, like the water that has passed the wheel, can not be brought back again. But a great part of our worry comes from anticipation. We fear what the future may bring to us. Many who have had food and rai- Fox. ment and every needed blessing for half a century are full of anxiety as to their remaining years.

But worry will not help any one to fight the battle of life, or open opportunities for securing their well-being. And worry, certainly, will not secure divine interposition. God is not attracted by our complaining fears. Such a course is offensive in His sight. It is contrary to the teaching of our Lord. He speaks to us: "Be not, therefore, anxious for the morrow; for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." So, again, Paul counsels us: "In nothing be anxious; but in every thing, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God, and the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall guard your hearte and your thoughts in Christ Jesus. Is not this what we need? If our hearts and thoughts are guarded by a divine pence we shall be invincible to anxiety. - Christian Inquirer.

CONTENTMENT.

It Is Not the Outcome of Idieness, But the Product of Faithful and Submissive

To enjoy the spiritual comfort which contentment orings, one does not need to put saide reasonable desire for advancement. The rightly-contented man is not he who folds his hands in idleness; but rather the one who keeps himself busy with the doing of the makes poculiar to his station, and makes it a matter of conscience to perform them well. In many conditions of life. the mere privilege of working is a source of comfort. It is a maxim of fiction-philosophy, the truth of which may be established out of many life experiences, that there is nothing but what is bearable, so long as a man can work. But, since he who is found faithful in a very little may be deemed worthy to have authority over much, it is not unseemly in the diligent worker to hope for larger opportunities of service and a larger measure of joy. The desired contentment relates not to an unaltered scarcity or plenty of possessions. When Paul wrote to the Philippians that he had learned, in whatsoever state he was, therewith to be content, he did not mean that he had settled down to a stolcal indifference to his fate. His life was a life of changes and vicissitudes, but he accepted the order of events that God appointed for his experience, hoping for the best, but always reverent and trustful. That is how it came pass that he knew how to abased and also how to abound. So it must be with us, if we would know the blessings of contentment. We must make the most of all our opportunities and be grateful to God for them, in whatever order or number they may come from His hand. It is a practical application of 'Thy will, not mine, be done." We must be content, not with to-day or to-morrow as a tivate the submissive spirit of Christina Rossetti when she sang: Lord. I had chosen another lot, But theu I had not chosen well: Thy choice and only Thine is good; No different lot, search Heaven and hell, Had blessed me, fully understood; None other which Thou orderest not.

finality, but with our order of progress as marked out by God. We must cul-

To Get Rid of Bad Tenants.

Nature abhors a vacuum; and nature will not allow a vacuum to remain such. The only way to get rid of any thing that is obnoxious in the world of sense or of spirit is by displacing it. A common saying, that has only one side of a truth in it, is: "An empty house is better than a bad tenant." But an empty house will not remain empty. No sooner is it empty, swept and garnished, after one demon has been cast out of it, than it is liable to be entered for a permanent abode by seven other demons, every one of them livelier than the dismissed one. A good tenant is better than an empty house, as well as better than a bad tenant. And no house of head or of heart need remain empty. If you would be rid of bad tenants in your head or Keart, you must fill up that house of the soul with tenants who are worth having there. This is the only course of safety for you. By God's grace, this is possible to you. -S. S. Times.

The Way Prepared.

On, on we are borne. The horizon closes its circle around us, but it moves with us. We can see only a little way before us, but far beyond our vision the way is prepared for us, and as we are borne forward in it the scenes behind us fade from our view, and new ones open. The former are not lost, they remain, and are as new to those who come after us as they were to us. And the former have ministered to and have been enjoyed by others. The unseen is in the hands of Him who guides us. Our hearts go out to it, and we know that if we commit ourselves to Him in well-doing, whatever of danger, delay and uneasiness there may be on the way. He will keep us to the end. So live by faith, and in doing so find that "faith is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen."-United Presbyterian.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

-There is a good doal of meaning in the proverb that "it is easier to go up hill with God than to go down hill without Him.

-Recipe for keeping faith from degenerating into hard bigotry—Link it always with a loving act.—Caroline

-A man who had given twenty dol. Buffalo, Lv..... lars as a church contribution, remarked to another: "I could do it just as well as not, and didn't feel it at all.' "The next time you give," said the other, "give so much that you will feel it." When one gives so little that he doesn't feel it, he may be sure that he has not given enough for his own best good. -N. Y. Independent.

-Multitudes have the benefits of pure air and the sunlight without recognizing the service they render to their physical health, and so many constantly enjoy the benign influences of Christianity without a thought of their obligation to it. Many a man has never realized what a safeguard human life and welfare the Gospeta, FROM YPSILANTI. till he has gone to some section of the country where there are no churches or Sunday schools. - Christian Inquir-

TATE SPRINGS, TENN., July 4, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:
During the spring of 1871, while working in the field at my home in Morgan county, Ga., I pulled off my shoes to give my feet a rest. Unfortunately, I walked into a clump of poison oak, and in a few days my feet were in a terrible condition, and I could not not on a shoe because of the soreness and put on a shoe because of the soreness and swelling. I was treated as poison oak cases usually are, and everything was healed up. About the same time the following spring, 1872, my feet became sore again, as at first, and every succeeding spring for five years brought back the same condition of the disbrought hack the same condition of the dis-case, only each time it became more dis-tressing, because I began to think it was a lifetime trouble. Finally, I was induced to try Swift's Specific. I took six bottles, and to-day am entirely well. My improvement was gradual from the first, and no evidence of the disease remains. I shall take pleas-ure in testifying as to its curative proper-ties. It is the greatest blood purifier in existence. Yours truly, J. L. MORGAN. The foregoing certificate is taken at ane loregoing certificate is taken at random from thousands of letters in possession of the Swift Specific Co., and presented simply as a sample. It is a voluntary statement, giving facts and results of the Its accuracy and genuineness are ties. It is the greatest blood purifier in ex-beyond question.

A valuable Treatise on Blood and Skin

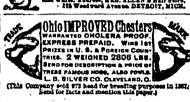

Standard or Select Brands of Oysters. Jersey Sweet Potatose; Placous Faircy Cataup the fluest made); City of Straits Codified (cut from the largest and genuine Cod); all classes of small fruits and vegetables; very best brands of Cannel Goods; Nuts (assorted or or significant from and vegetation; very behands of Canned Goods; Nuts (assorted or separate); Bulk and Shell Oysters; our full lines of Can Fruita, Vegetables, Fish, Meats, Finest Florida Oranges, Lemons, &c., &c., are wholesale Oyster and Fruit Dealers, Detroit, Mich.

GIDER. PRESERVATIVE.

A thoroughly tested and a holesome preparation for arresting fermentation, enabling one to have rich, sparking cider the year around. Has been on the market size years, and is indorsed by thousands who have used it. It thoroughly clarifies, and imparts no foreign teste. Put up in boxes designed for 32 and 54 gall, packages, retailing at 32 and 50 cts. Sold by dealors, or sent by read on receipt

TIME TABLE-NOV. 20, 1887.

 All trains run by 90th Meridian or Cen-ral Standard time.

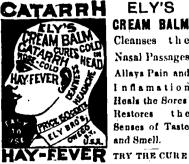

STATIONS.	Mail.	Day Krpross.*	N. Y. & Lim. Ex.+	Atlantict Express.	Night Express.↑	Gr. Hap. & Det Ex
Chi	A. M.	A. M.		P. M.
Kajamazoc	5 00	9 00 P. M.		10 10
Kwininazoc	10 M	1 33
Jackson	i 20	4 15				9 35
Ann Arbor	2 43		9 41	7.50		10 40
YPSILANTI	3 00	5 45	9 53	8 08	6 17	10 53
Denton's	#3 10			8 18	‡
Wayne Junc	8 25	6 05		R 333		11 11
West Detroit	4 40	6 35	10 35	9 10
Detroit	4 10	6 45	10 45	9 20	7.30	H-50
	Į.	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Buffalo		3 35	6 15	4 55	8.05

‡ Stops only on Signal. O. W. Ruggligh, B. M. Damon, G. P. & T. Ag't, Chicago. Station Ag't, Yps.

L. S. & M. S. RAILWAY.

YPSILANTI BRANCH. TO YPSILANTI

Way Ft.	Bx a Mail	STATIONS.			Ex a Mail
6 80 7 10 7 85	9 18		YPSILANTIPittafield Ballne		4	10 53 42	8	-
P. M. 3 30	11 35 P. M.	Ar	Hillsdale	Lv.	2 A.	40 M.	Ā.	•
	9 40	Ar	Toledo Cleveland Buffalo	Lv.	r.	M.	٠.	•
ł

ELY'S CREAM BALM Cleanses the Nasal Passages

Allays Pain and Inflamation Heals the Sores Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

A Particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 20 cents at Druggists; by mail, replacement, of cts. ELV BROTHERS, of Warren Street, New York.

The mouse is knowing, but the cat is more knowing.

Between skying and doing there is a great

SPECIAL!

On and After

Monday, August 27, '88.

I will offer my Entire Stock

At Very Low Prices.

※TERMS, CASH.※

All persons indebted to me will please call and settle at their earliest convenience.

P. Glover.

CLOTHING. HATS,

CAPS.

ONE PRICE ONLY ANDTHAT THE LOWEST.

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

JOE. SANDERS YPSILANTI, MICH.

MERCHANT TAILORING

A SPECIALTY.

UNION

LEADER OF STYLES AND PRICES

but_room JAXON because it

It is QUICK, EASY. CHEAP.

MONEY, TIME. LABOR, STRENGTH. CLOTHES.

5 Cents is all it COSTS.

That's not much if it's bad, and is mighty cheap if it does what is claimed for it.

HAVE YOUR BOOKS BOUND AT THE COMMERCIAL

BINDERY.

YPSILANTI COMMERCIAL. PUBLISHED EVERY PRIDAY AT 64 North Huron Street, Ypslianti, Michigan.

COE BROTHERS.

BUBSCRIPTION RATES.

ONE YEAR. $1 50
SIX MONTHS. 75
TERMS MONTHS 40
EST Payable strictly in advance. Your subscription expires on the first day of the month gamed on the margin of your paper.

Correspondence of a local or vicinity interest

There is still a surplus of $132,000,-000 in the United States Treasury, Let us watch and see what the Republicans will do with it.

Benj. Harrison of Indiana is elected President of the United States. The great principle of protection for protection's sake is for the time triumphant. We still believe, however, that the time is coming when tariff reform as advocated by the Democratic party in the campaign of 1888 will meet with the approval of the people of this nation.

The Result.

The suspense is not so long as it was four years ago. The vote in New York settles the matter, and Cleveland and Thurman are defeated. It would be useless to pretend that it is a picnic for the Democracy: but we can say with perfect truth that the Democracy will accept the situation philosophiically. They are not altogether unused to defeat, and know quite enough about it to feel that it is no excuse for discouragement or despondency. The principles for which they fought are as sound and true as ever; and defeat cannot weaken or change them.

There is more of consolation in the result than that which springs from the consciousness of a gallant fight for principle. There is the prouder consciousness that the principles fought for were victorious notwithstanding the defeat of our candidates. The miserable faction fight in New York, to which that defeat is directly traceable, had no connection with the issues upon which the contest was fought in the other states of the union. The traders in votes who made merchandise of the national Democratic strength in New York cared nothing for principle, for tariff reform or high protection, for agreements and the surrounder the surrounder to the surrounder the surrounder to the surroun grandizement or reduction of the surplus. They cared only for their petty.personal schemes or the successes of local candidates in whom they were interested. For these they were ready to barter away the best hope the nation has had for years of relief from oppressive taxation; and they have furnished a fresh illustration of the fact that great results may be accomplished by insignificant

This most important fact imposes upon the successful party a plain and clearly defined responsibility. The country, by a small majority, achieved through a factional war in New-York, has declared in its favor. At the same time, by an overwhelming vote, it has declared for tariff referm and for the reduction of tariff taxation. The successful party can, of course, ignore this latter fact; but if it is wise it will accept it and act upon it. In so doing it will not only be obeying the popular will, but it will be putting in practice the theories of its ablest leaders in the past.

But will the successful party be wise? That is a problem. Mr. Harrison, though not in any sense a great man, has the reputation of being a man of honest impulses. While he has been strongly committed during the campaign to the theories of the monopolists, he may have the strength to cut loose from them when he finds himself charged with responsibility for his party and its policy. The danger is that he will not be permitted to act with any independence. Unless the signs of the times have been utterly misleading, his nominal elevation to the presidency means the real ascendancy of Mr. James G. Blaine. If it does mean this, then proached, head on, the first rapid or descent, he popular will be headed no more than that the most skillful navigator would elevation to the presidency means the reform will be heeded no more than the idle wind; and the country will be given over to the selfish scheming and trickery which always characterized Mr. Blaine when in the role of statesman, and were especially prominent during his brief career in the State Department. If the Democracy were governed only by narrow partisanship they could ask for nothing better than such a delivery of the country to the untender mercies of Blaine. Nothing could so certainly insure the speedy and permanereversal of Tuesday's verdict. But not even the prospect of such a speedy reversal can make over which she was carried stern foremost the Democracy look with complacency upon the reinstatement of Blaine at the helm. The role of a minority party is far better than success would be achieved at such cost .- Detroit Free Press.

Mr. De Masher (to pretty barmaid at re-freshment counter)—Aw, miss, would you aw-give me-aw-one of thom-aw Pretty Barmaid (giving him oatmeal hiscuit)—lisre's the dog blacuit. Take it on the mat and cat it. [Collapse of De Masher.]— THE PROPER VIEW.

Rays from all around converge to any point; Study the point, then, ere you track the rays. The size of the circle's nothing; subdivide Earth, and earth's smallest grain of mustard seed. You count as many parts, small matching large, if you can use the mind's eye; otherwise Material porter being green at hest.

Material option being gross at best, Prafer the large, and leave our minds the small, And pray, how many folks have minds can see?

A SHIP OVER NIAGARA.

I copy from a letter which was writ-ten by a former resident of Lancaster an account of a most remarkable occurrence at Niagara Falls sixty years ago, which the writer of the letter witnessed, and of which writer of the letter withomed, and of which it is doubtful if many people of today ever beard. No history of Niagura Falls that I ever saw gives any account of it, although nothing that ever occurred at the great cataract has a more peculiar interest. The letter is sepecially interesting as giving an illustration of the manner in which people went on excursions in the days before railroads. It is doubtful if so many people have ever gathered at the falls at one time since the day described in this letter. Here is the

"BUFFALO, Sept. 9, 1828. "I was in hones that I should have got back to this town from the Niagara falls last evening in time to have dropped you a line respecting the fate of the schooner Michigan, but owing to the delay in getting away, waiting for our passengers and some derange-ment of the machinery of the steamboat and a head wind, we did not arrive until 1 o'clock this morning. As the exhibition yesterday was of a novel character and has excited much more interest than any person could have anticipated when it was first mentioned, you will doubtless be anxious to learn the particulars, and to gratify your curically I will endeavor to give you the story as much in detail as possible. "The schooner Michigan was the largest on The schomer michigan was the manages of take Erie, and too large, in fact, to enter the various harbors of the lake, and, being somewhat decayed in her uppers, the thought struck the owner, Maj. Frazer, formerly of New York, that she would answer the pure pose of testing the fate of a vessel that by ac-cident might approach too near the stu-pendous cataract of Niagara, and also of the fate of animals that might be caught in the rapids of these swift rolling waters and carried over the falls,

"The proprietors of the large public houses at the falls, on both sides of the river, and of at the fails, on both sides of the river, and or stages and steamboats, made up a purse to purchase the schooner, aware that they would be repaid by the company which the exhi-bition would attract, and in the calculation they were not deceived.

"For several days previous to the 8th ta. stages came crowded, as well as the canal boats, so much so that it was difficult to find a conveyance to the falls; and such was the interest that the descent was the only topic of conversation among all classes. On the night of the 7th wagons filled with country people rattled through this town all night, and on Saturday morning Buffalo itself and on Saturday morning Buffalo itself seemed to be moving in a mass toward the point of attraction. To accommodate those who could not find a passage in carriages, five steamboats had advertised to leave here on Saturday morning They were the Henry Clay, William Penn, Pioneer, Niagara and Chippewa, being all the steamboats on Lake Eric except the Superior. The Chipman was appointed. the Superior. The Chippewa was appointed to tow down the pirate schooner (as she was termed), the Michigan, which service she per-formed. I took my passage on board this boat, and we got under way before the others, passed through the basin at Block Bock, and about a mile below the rock took in tow the vessel destined to make the dread-ful plunge. As soon as we got under way the scene became interesting. The sun shone in full splendor, the waters of the Erie were placid, there being scarcely a ruffle upon its surface, and a few miles astern of us four steamers crowded with passengers, and with bands of music on board, were plowing their way down the rapids of Niagara. Our little boat towed the Michigan as far as Yale's Landing, a British shore within three miles of the fails, where she anchored, and at this place the Chippewa landed her passengers as well as the William Penn, and they were conveyed from there to the falls in vehicles of all descriptions. The three other steamers landed their passengers on the American side.

"Three o'clock was the hour appointed to weigh anchor on board the Michigan. The task of towing her from Yale's Landing to the rapids, and a most hazardous one it was, was intrusted to Capt. Rough, the oldest captain on the lake. With a yawl boat and five oarsmen, of stout hearts and strong arms, the old captain got the schooner under way, and towed her till within one-quarter of a mile of the first rapids, and within balf a mile of the tremendous precipice, as near as they dared approach. Cutting her adrift, she passed majestically on, while the carsmen of the yawi had to pull for their lives to make themselves safe. Indeed, such were the fears of the men, as I have understood, that on approaching near the rapids they cut the tow line before they had orders from their commander.

their commander.

"And now we approach the interesting moments of the exhibition. The high grounds on both sides of the American and British shores were lined with people, having a full view of the rapids and of the approach of the vessel, and now it was that a thousand fears have pursued, having an American ensign flying from her bowsprit and the British jack displayed at her stern. She passed the first rapid unburt, still head on, making a plunge, shipping a sea, and rising from it in beautiful style. In her descent over the second her masts went by the board, at the same moment affording those who have never withessed a shipwreck a specimen of the spars of a ship at sea in a wreck. Expectation of her fate was now at the high-est; she swung around and presented her broad side to the dashing and foaming wa-ter, and after remaining stationary a moment or two, was, by its force, swung round, stern foremost, and, having passed the third rapid, she bilged, but carried her hull ap-parently whole between Grass Island and the British shore to the Horseshoe, and launched into the abyse below. In her fall she was dashed to pieces. I went below fall she was cashed to pieces. A wonth office the fells immediately after the descent, and the river presented a singular appearance from the thousands of floating fragments, there being scarcely to be seen any two boards natied together, and many of her timbers were broken into twenty pieces. Buch was the eagerness of the multitude present to procure a piece of her that before sumed a great part of her was carried away. "I believe I have already informed you of the animals on board. They consisted of a buffals from the Blocky mountains, two bears from Green bay and Grand river, two foxes.

a raccoon, a dog, a cat and four goese. The fate of these you will probably wish to learn. When the vessel was left to her fate they were let location dack, except the buffalo, whe was enclosed in a temporary pen. The two bears left the vessel shortly after she began to descend the rapids, and swam ashors, not-withstanding the rapidity of the current. On reaching the British shore they were taken.

The buffalo was seen to pass over the falls, but was never seen afterward. Before the vessel reached the first rapids those who had glasses could see one of the bears climbing the mast, and the fores, etc., were also running up and down; but nothing was seen of them after the schooner passed over. The only live animals of the crew that passed over the falls were two geese, they were taken up unhurt. Mai. Frazer obtained one, and an English gentleman purchased the other for $2. Respecting the efficien, the only one I saw below the falls was Gen. Jackson, apparently uninfured, throwing his arms about and knocking his legs together in the eddles, as though he was the only one of the crew that escaped nnhurt "The calculations are various as to the number of persons assembled on both shores Some estimate them as low as 15,000 and others at 80,000. The greatest body of people were on the American side. Goat Island for a considerable distance exhibited a dense column of persons, and the bridge erected from Goat Island, which is built a hundred feet over the rapids, was also crowded, and temporary booths, made with the boughs of trees, skirted both shores. As we passed down the Niagara we had a full view of the whole distance from Buffalo of the hundreds of vahicles of all descriptions passing towards the falls, and as the weather has been uncom-monly hot and dry for a long time the roads presented uninterrupted columns of dust as far as the eye could extend. In fact, so much larger was the assemblage than was anticipated that, notwithstanding the proprietors of the public houses had laid in an unusual supply of refreshments, they had not provided sufficient for one-half the peo-ple, and thousands were unable to obtain a mouthful of anything. You may judge of the situation of matters when I assure you that I stopped at Forsyth's about 4 o'clock p. m., after climbing up his everlasting steps from the bottom of the falls, and was unable to obtain even a cracker or a glass of water; and this was the case at Brown's also. On the American side, I learn that everything eatable and drinkable was consumed before one-half the visitors had obtained anything.

"So well pleased are the people with this grand and novel aquatic exhibition that already they are talking about getting up something more splendid next year. In this the tavern keepers and stage proprietors will heartly join, as the present frolic has afforded them a fine harvest for some time."-

A Guest's Ingenious Plan.

The story is told of a young Boston sales-man, who, going to the mountains, found there a magnet so strong that he lost account of time, and at length was unable to reconcile the expenses of his prolonged stay with the sum total of funds at his disposal. Then again, were he obliged to leave his trunk behind as security for the balance due, he would arrive in the city with a wardrobe almost as depleted as was that of the Flora McPlimsy, and the small amount he would be able to set aside from his moderate weekly salary would be so long in liquidating his summer debt that his case was a desperate one, especially as he was a great dresser. To get the trunk from the house without attracting attention, and consequently preventing an embarrasing scene was an impossibility; to do without the contents of the trunk appeared equally impossible. He was perfectly honest in his intent to equare his account at the earliest mo ment, but the dreaded interval that must elapse was too fearful to contemplate, with the prospect of his well selected wardrobe about a hundred miles away. A bright idea entered his mind, affording apparently the only way out of the difficulty. He had been a frequent sender of souvenirs of the mountains to distant friends. He conceived the plan of sending some to his own Boston address. Gradually and stealthily he shipped by piecemeal the contents of his Baratoga, until the latter was very thoroughly denuded of its chief treasures. A vest went Bostonward by mail one day, a coat started in the same direction by express the next, and so it continued until the work was completed, the perfumed and gorgeous trunk receiving as a filling for the void that had been made a miscellaneous lot of vegetation and other stuff, which had to be smuggled into his room as stealthily as his clothes had been smuggled out. The work being completed the delicate task of interviewing the landlord, acquainting the latter with the guest's financial embarrassment, and of propitiating him by leaving the trunk as security, was finally completed, and the trip made safely homeward; but the city holds at least one returned mountain visitor whose mind is any thing but easy, and who is practicing the most rigid economy that he may cancel his indebtness before a suspicious examination of the trunk may expose his plan of operations.-Boston Budget.

Urging a Burial Beform

There has lately been a good deal of com-plaint about the mode of burial in a Jewish cemetery on Long Island. The complaint is that in many cases no coffins are used. The body is brought to the grave in a box, which is opened beside the grave and the body taken out. The box is then taken spart and some of the boards put into the grave. The body is then placed on these, the other boards laid over it, and the grave filled up. This kind of burial is said to be "scandalous," and also that in many cases no coffins are used. The highly objectionable in a sanitary sense, and quite a fuss is made about it in the neighborhood of the cemetery in question,

Very well. But at the very time the fust is going on and getting into the papers, a meeting of churchmen is held in New York to urge a "burial reform" very closely resembling the condemned custom in the Jew ish cemetery. Dr. Huntington, pastor of Grace church, presided at the meeting, and several other Episcopal clergymen were present. The practice of inclosing the dead in tight coffins or caskets, and then inclosing in tight comins or causes, and then inclosing these in strong boxes was declared to be bad in every way, as it arrests the quick decay which the great chemist, Nature, intends shall take place. One of the speakers, describing funeral customs, said that until the time of Charles II coffins were unknown. Bodies were laid on planks, with a turf at the head and foot, and the grave then closed over them. So there does not seem to be anything very shocking in the custom at that Jewish cametery, after all. It is an old English custom, rather than a barbarous one peculiar to the poorer Polish Jews. And, instead of being bad in a sanitary way, the clergymen appear to think it much better

Tippecance & Morton Too!

Tippecanoe and Morton too, Has a Chestnut ring for a song so new, It's a variation of "Old Tippecanoe" That suits some, if it does not you.

During all the political excitement FRANK SMITH has felt so sure that the end of the world was not yet, that he has been getting _ ready for business. And he has "got there." His stock is larger and his PRICES SMALLER than ever before. You can save the trouble of shopping and get all the value there is in your money by going at once to FRANK SMITH'S EMPORIUM if you want Drugs, Patent Medicines, Books, Wall Paper, Stationery, Artist's Materials, Picture Frames, Pocket Books, Pocket Cutlery, Toys and Fancy Goods. The Emporium stock of Jewelry, Spectacles and Eye Glasses is most complete and prices on them especially low.

Don't forget that the old firm of Santa Claus & Frank Smith is still in the Holiday business and the stock is beginning to pile up at the Emporium, and nothing will be lost, but much may be gained by an early call. Always glad to see you. So say, and feel Santa Claus & Frank Smith.

PERCHERON HORSES!

ISLAND HOME STOCK FARM, Grosse Isle, Wayne County, Michigan. or pure-bred animals on hand. Frices reasonable; terms easy. Horses ed breeders. Large catalogue with history of the breed free by mail. Address SAVAGE & FARMUM, Detroit, Mich.

A. H. SMITH BELIEVES!

That it is the right of every man to buy where he can buy the cheapest, and if he, the said A. H. Smith, cannot sell you groceries as cheap as you can buy them anywhere else, he does not expect or deserve your trade, but, he would like to have a chance to show you his goods, if you come to Ypsilanti he hopes that you will give him an opportunity

... HERE'S

STATE OF THINGS!

Our Teas are all in a mix! Our Coffees got the sack! Our Pepper is on its sneezel

Our Vinegar has soured on us! Our Syrups want to run away! Our Currants have no grit! Our Sugar inclines to loaf!

Our Cheese don't have a smell! Our Flours won't bloom! Our Figs run to seed!

Our Canned Goods Are all shelved.

Buy us out before things get any

C. A. SHAW,

At the depot,

Ypsilanti.

Positively cures Liver and Kidney Complaints, Constinution, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Dropsy, Billiousness Malaria, Piabetes, and all Diseases Arising from Impure blood.

FOR THE LADIES.

Ledies will find this a Perfect Hemedy for Female troubles, such as Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, sick Hemache, and also for beautifying the Complexion and Bradicating Pimpies and Blotches and other skin Diseases.

NOTICE OUR GUARANTEE.

We say to all, try it and beconvinced, the same a we have convinced others, and if it does not do just as recommended, return your package nd have your money retunded.

Yor sale by all Druggists or authorized canvassing Agents, at the, 50c and $1.00 per package, or mailed on receipt of price, by the DIAMOND MEDICINE CO. 77 STATE ST., DETROIT, MICH. Everyone should have a package in their home and never be without it.

Agents wanted in all localities. Extra In-

SOCIOS E ENCONOSIONES EN CONOSIONAS EN CONOSIONAS EN CONOSIONAS EN CONOSIONAS EN CONOSIONAS EN CONOSIONAS EN C

Dealers in Fresh and Salt Meats of All Kinds, at Lowest Market Prices, and we haveFresh Fish Constantly on Hand. Our Motto is to Please All.

Have Your Eyes Tested!

Spectacles and Eye Glasses Fitted on Scientific Principles. Eyes tested Free of Charge.

At Dodge's Jewelry Store!

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

Willis. Bert Darling is still rusticating in Kan-

Harvey Day and J. B. Lord are sending milk to Detroit from Willis. Russell and Willings have resumed bean buying at Willis. Wanted, the whereabouts of the man who was lost in the squall of his first grandchild.

Miss Delora Phelps and her brother Delmor of Ypsi, called on their aunt, Mrs. S. P. Ballard, Sunday, Strayed or stolen from the premises of J. M. Breining, 16 turkeys. No clue to their whereabouts.

The lazy man's lamentation.-The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and my corn is not husked.

Before this goes to press the turmoil will be hushed and the government of politicians, by politicians, for politicians, will be presumably safe for the next four

A short time ago I was called upon by a committee of physicians and surgeons of Minneapolis, led by Dr. Hunter of that city, Minneapolis, led by Dr. number of suaveley, with a request that I would umpire a game ofbase ball to be played on the ensuing day between the Allopaths and Homosopaths of Minneapolis for the championship of the Minneapolis for the championship of the northwest, the proceeds to go to the Homosopathic hospital.

I told Dr. Hunter that an all wise providence had not seen fit to endow me with a great deal of baseball wisdom, but that I was passionately fond of the game, recogniz-ing, as I did, that it denoted a wonderful degree of progress and a gradual leading up from bean bag and two-old-cat towards the surnestness, the throb and thrill and such earnestness, the throb and thrill and such things as that of the true athlete.

Dr. Hunter said I had the right idea of the game, he thought, and he would get Mr. Conklin, of the Grand Opera house, to do the active part of the umpiring, leaving me mostly to ait under the shade of a darge sun umbrella, cutside the orbit of bot bells and umbrella, outside the orbit of hot balls and engaged in thought. He said that a great many people had noticed in me the faculty of being able to assume a thinkful air while really engaged in something else. He said people liked that in anybody, and especially in an unpite.

At 2:30 the rival clubs arrived in separate ambulances and chose up for "ina." The Alloraths cot the bat.

Each club had a separate pail out of which they drank when in need of anything in that line. The Homosopaths took theirs at a third dilution every twenty minutes out of a 'graduate," and the Allopaths drank out of a 'graduate," and the Allopaths drank out of a large tin dipper until relieved.

I presume the different players would not care to have me use their names here and so I will substitute fictitious names.

different kinds of clothes, but very becoming indeed. A few baseball uniforms scattered through the two clubs gave life and piquancy to the game and made it more difficult for the umpire to tell which side was in. Dr. Gray wore drab small clothes, a light high hat with wide, black band and long, ashes of roses mohair duster, held in place by means of a string.

Dr. Windymeler wore a blue flannel.sailor's suit, with inflamed revers of same.

Dr. Pendergast wore a low neck and short sleeve knit lingerie, with checkered pantaloons and a wad of tule at the throat. He wore a tarpaulin hat and no ornaments,

Dr. Blecker wore a pair of all wool trou-ers, with wedge of shrimp pink satin set in he back between his suspender buttons; white, open back shirt, pin stripe suspenders

Dr. Early wore a street costume, with fire-man's hat and varioloid necktie. Dr. Panghorn wore a Prince Albert coat, knickerbockers and fore and aft steamer bat of small blue and white plaid, with squirrel skin ear tabs tied roguishly over the top. He wore no ornaments at the beginning of the game, but at the third inning appeared in a stellated, comminuted contusion just east of stellated, comminuted contusion just east of the parotid gland.

Dr. Pemberthy wore a tennis suit with silk hat and crocheted slippers. He made a very fine appearance on the begutiful green ball-ground, but generally perialled before he reached second. In batting Dr. Pemberthy almost always struck at the ball after the catcher had it, in his procket and he always catcher had it in his pocket, and he always erred in diagnosing the general direction of the ball, and his treatment of it was visionary and theoretical in the extreme. i had to reprimand him three times for these things

The game was called at 3 o'clock, and with two large shingles to keep tally on, I told the

Dr. Mills, of the Allopaths, went first to bat. He was dressed simply in a suit of blue fiannel, with richly beaded moccasins and high crowned stiff black shiny straw hat. He spat on both hands, then caught up a quart of sand, which he applied to the handle of the bat, breathed in all the air between himself and the center fielder, asked for an abdom inal ball, and got so near what he requested that it was some time before I could signal Mr. Conklin to go on with the game. He was given his base on balls, I believe, and made a home run in the ambulanca. When he got in he tallied and took a bismuth powder that would have settled the stomach of a whole livery stable.

Dr. Dixon then came to the bat. He was dressed in a morning costume of brown chev-tot with marcon faille francaise sleeve linings which had crocked his linen in places, b did not burt the general effect. He wore no ornaments aside from a society emblem of solid gold attached to his watch chain which weighed two or three pounds. He asked for a clavicle ball, which he missed by a right smart. The pitcher prescribed another cap-sule for him, which he struck at just a few moments before it got to him, and with such force as to whirl him around on the home plate with great violence. As soon as he had recovered from his giddiness and vertigo I called time again, and this time he swatted the ball so high that it was a glorious chance for the center fleider to get under it, as it was a long time in the air and came down as straight as a shot, but the center fielder was just fitting a new stopper to his stethoscope, which he had lost out on his way to the grounds, and so muffed it, as we would say. playing this game I find, in both schools, is not so much a lack of proper knowledge of its histology, physiology, microscophy, chemistry, pethology, physiological medicine, pharmacy or therapeutics, for all schools seem to treat a The general error made by physicians in hot ball in about the same manner, favoring in most cases a conservative course until the temperature of the ball is reduced, but the common error seems to be the same as that made in the Garfield case, viz, an incorre diagnosis as to the course and location of the 3 Space at this time will not permit an extended description of the game as played, but a hasty recapitulation shows that the Allopaths are more in favor of outward application, and that they are further advanced, perhaps, in the various methods of probing for the ball, while the Homosopaths are less liable to overslay themselves.

MARRIED FOR LOVE

It was audacious that a poor bookkeep er like Charles Hemmenway should aspire to the hand of old Walters' daughter, but that he should continue his attentions even after his firm had failed and he was out of employment seemed most reprehensible. Emily's father forbade him the house Her parents were very anxious that she should marry John Warton, a man of money, but so far the young lady had indignantly refused to do so.

The time came at last for the lovers to separate, and Emily told Charles of John Warton's proposal and vowed that she would never become his wife.

"You feel this way to night, dear Emily, but sooner or later your family will prevail. It is only a question of time. Sooner or later you will become his wife though he is 20 years your senior."

"How can you suggest such a possibil ity?" she said warmly. "I know it is at this moment disgust ing, and you may experience astonishment at these words, dear Emily, but you will not forget them. I predict it; though it burns my heart to give this thought an utterance. I will be true to you under all circumstances! And now, farewell!

auspices."

He kissed her, embraced her, and left her amid tears. And within five days young Hemmenway took passage in a brig bound for the West Indies. After a delay of four months he found a situation in a shipping house, where he succeeded very handsomely in business for a time. He then went to Valparaiso, where he was still more fortunate, and where he until we may meet under more promising remained some years.

The above events occurred in 1856 and The above events occurred in 1856 and '57. No communication passed between the parties for a long period. Emily reached her 22d birthday, and finally made John "eternally happy," so he declared, by becoming Mrs. Wharton.

Charles Hemmenway's prophecy was thus fulfilled. Emily had never heard one word from her former ardent lover from the night he left Now York.

And so seven years passed. Emily had been a wedded wife five years, and was the mother of two lovely children. John Warton died and left Emily heir to his handsome property.

The blooming wildow went to reside upon a quiet estate situated on the Hud is no river.

One morning in the early summer of 1864 the Emily Western of 1864 the 186 troubled countenance for a moment. Mrs. Warton thought she recognized him, how-ever, and she threw aside her veil to see what might be the effect. As she-turned toward him he started, peered into her face, put out his hand, and earnestly ex-

"Emily, is it you?"
"Charles Hemmenway." responded the fair widow, "is it possible you have returned alive?"

supremely happy lovers. Each was now master and mistress of their own fortunes. And three months elapsed only from this happy meeting when Emily Warton be came Mrs. Charles Hemmenway, and to-day they are living in the midst of plenty and happiness, upon their elegant estate on the banks of the Hudson river.

ENDURANCE.

How much the heart may bear, and yet not break!
How much the flesh may suffer and not die I question-much if any pain or ache
Of soul or body brings our end more nigh.
Death chooses his own time: till that is worn,
All cylls may be borne.

We shrink and shudder at the surgeon's knife Fach nerve recoiling from the cruci steel. Whose circ seems searching for the quiver-ing life: ing lite: t to our sense the bitter pangs reveal still, although the trembling flesh be torn.
This, also, can be borne.

We see a sorrow rising in our way,
And try to fice from the approaching ill,
We seek some small escape—we weep and pray.
But when the blow falls, then our hearts are still—

Not that the pain is of its sharpness shorn,
But think it can be borne. We wind our life about another life,
We hold it closer, dearer than our own:
Anon it faints and fails in deadly strife,
Leaving us stunned, and stricken, and

But ab! we do not die with those we mourn:
This, also, can be borne.

Behold, we live through all things, famine, thirst. thirst,

Beroavement, pain, all grief and misory,
All wee and sorrow; life inflicts its worst.

On soul and body, but we can not die,
Though we be slot, and thred, and faint, and

All woods and though we be slot, and though we be slot, and though worm

Lol all things can be borne. Personn—Landlord and steward.
"Have you tied up the butter?"
"It is done, sir."
"And chained down the cheese?"

Are the imitation tomatoes on?" "Theye are, sir."
"Where is the wax fruit?"

"On the sideboard."
"Then you can lead the chicken through the soup, wave the ham bone over the china eggs and serve up the porcelain

An Object Lerson.

Dean Burgon on a certain occasion not long ago, was expatiating on the nature of man. He pointed out that great distinction between human beings and the lower animals consisted in the capacity for progress, "Man." exclaimed the dean warm loss to the theme. The a progressive being gress, "Man." exclaimed the dean warming to his theme, "is a progressive being other creatures are atationary. Think, for example, of the ass! Always and every where it is the same creature, and you never saw a more perfect ass than you never the present moment." see at the present moment."

Hanson Craig of Kentucky is probably the heaviest man in the world. His weight is given at 792 pounds, and it requires thirty-seven yards of cloth to make him a suit. He is six feet four and a half inches, is 31 years old, and weighed eleven pounds at birth. When 2 years old he took a $1,000 prize at the leave The Heaviest Man in the World. Hanson Craig of Kentucky is probably the heaviest man in the world. His weight is given at 792 pounds, and it requires thirty-seven yards of cloth to make him a sult. He is six fect four and a half inches, is 31 years old, and weighted eleven pounds at birth. When 2 years old he took a $1,000 prize at the baby show in New York, tipping the beam si 206 pounds at that time. His father weighted 115 pounds and his mother 122,

Address, HAROLD F, SAYLES, Ypshant, Mich.

STEALING A KING

"I have not been saving all these years for nothing," said Robert Lincoln, as he walked along the cliffs with his friend. In another week I shall be Janie Read's husband. Don't you congratulate me?"

"I wish you luck, certainly," returned Henry Graham. "I don't know any girl in town that I would rather marry than Janie—that is, were I a marrying man.

In a few moments the friends parted. Robert walking in the direction of the lighthouse, where he was to relieve the keeper for the might, and Henry return-ing to the village.

There were sad hearts in the village the next day when it was noised about that young Lincoln had fallen from the cliff in the dark. He had started for the light-house and had not been heard of since.

But Robert was not dead. In falling he had been caught on a projecting ledge, where he was found by some good fishing peop.e and cared for.

On the porch of a vine-covered cottage was seated a beautiful maiden.

Her fair face, rosy with the health which an active country life brings to the check of youth, was bowed in her hands, while through her fingers the tears were stealing.

atealing.
"It was Janie, weeping for him she should never see again.

Suddenly steps approached, and Janie sprang to her feet with a scream.

Who was this who stood before her so pale and thin? "Janie: dariing Janie! do not be fright-ened. It is I—your Robert. Janie did not belive in apparations, and in another moment she was clasped close in her lover's embrace. But after the first transports of her joy was over, she suddenly seemed to remember something which called a grave cloud to her brow. Withdrawing herself from her lover's arms, she hid her face in her hands. "Janie! what is it?" Robert exclaimed.

"Why do you look so sad?"
Then amid tears and sobs the girl told him that she had been forced by her father to give her consent to marry one

he had chosen for her.

he had chosen for her.

Robert's face grew as black as night.

"Who is it?" he exclaimed.

"It is Henry Graham," answered Janle, still sobbing. "He came to father and told him that he had lately been left a large sum of money, and that he could give me a good home. Father was delighted—you know how much he thinks of money—and made me consent. I was son river.

One morning in the early summer of 1864 Mrs. Emily Warton was returning from a visit to her children, who were at school in New York. She sat alone in a seat in one of the cars, upon a tain which ran from New York citv up the banks of the Hudson river.

A gentleman, apparently 32 or 33 years of are, though someweat older in fact, entered the car and took the unoccupied seat beside her. The gentleman was a stranger, and he did not observe her troubled countenance for a moment. Mrs.

"Did Henry Graham give you that

A sudden, strange capital to his eyes.
"Did Henry Graham give you that ring, Janie?" he aske.d.
As she assented suddenly claspe i her to him.
"Janie! Jannie!" he cried; "courage, lassie! We'll be happy yet! A light has broken in upon me. Walt till to morrow lassie: We'll be happy yet: A light has broken in upon me. Walt till to morrow and see if your father still wishes you to marry Henry Graham."

The ring which Janie wore upon her

And the two old friends were quickly in pleasant converse.

Charles was still a bachelor, and he felt as strongly devoted to his 'dear Emily' as when, in the old, bright days, they lived only in and for each other.

We will not enlarge upon the details of the succeeding interview between the now supremely happy lovers. Each was now master and mistress of the lack was now master and mistress of the lack truth. As he had expected, he found his money gone.

Some hours later, with a pale, frightened face (for villains are always cowards), Henry Graham stood by while a constable searched his things and brought to light convincing proofs of his guilt in the shape of the rest of the jewelry, which when he had taken the money he had appropriated also.

When he saw that all was discovered Henry made a full confession. He had always secretly loved Janie Read, and all the time he had been willing himself into Robert's friendship his heart had been filled with cavy toward him. Thus, when fate had a emed to put the opportunity fate had a cmed to put the opportunity into his power he had not been able to resist the temptation of securing the prize he had long coveted. He had known of Mr. Read's love of money, and had calculated rightly on its power in turning | Culleted rightly on its-power in turning him to his wishes, But his evil deeds HONRY | HONRY marring forever.

A few months later the little village presented a gala appearance. It was the wedding day of the two young people, who were beloved by all, and whose romantic story interested old

Absolutely Pure. The powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and whole-someness. More economical than the ordinary kind and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low fest-short weight alum or phosphate, powders. Sol, only in cans. ROYAL BAKING, POWDER CO. 103 Wall St., N. Y.

MONEY is the MAGNET:

THAT DRAWS THE CROWD OF CONTENTED CUSTOMERS TO ALBAN & JOHNSON'S.

When friend asks friend, 'why trade with ALBAN & JOHNSON, for Clothing," the answer comes promptly,

WE LEAD THEM ALL.

Alban & Johnson.

の対策の

"There's Money in it!"

There is Nothing Small

About Alban & Johnson

Except Their

Prices and Profits.

TEST US

With Your Trade For Clothing.

ALBAN & JOHNSON,

Congress St., -- - Ypsilanti, Mich.

-CTRE-

BY USING THE GENUINE Dr.C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED -.IVER PILLS!

FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa. BE Beware of COUNTERPEITS made in St. Louis.

YPSILANTI MARKETS.

PRICES PAID ON THE STREETS.

[Corrected up to the hour of publication.] WHEAT$ 95
 BYE
 6
 50

 BEANS
 1 25
 2
 1 50

 POTATOES
 30
 35

 BARLEY Scwt
 1 00
 2
 1 35
 HAY $\ \text{ton} \tag{7 00} \\
\text{CLOVER SEED} \tag{4 50} BUTTER LARD.....BGGS.....CHICKENS....

SHEEP fatted # D..... 3 Ø 3 ¼ 5 Ø 5 ¼ LAMBS HOGS # 10... VBAL, livo. COW8, milch...... 20 00 @ 50 00

received October of Overcoats

New Invoice

TO ADVERTISERS!

A list of 1000 newspapers divided into States and Sections will be sent on application, FREE. To those who want their advertising to pay, we can offer no better medium for thorough and effective work than the various sections of our Select Local List.

OEORGE P. ROWELL & CO.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau.
10 Spruce street, New York,

PRIVATE No Pee requirest until Venereal Taint, Gleet, Brieture, Reminal, Emissions, Loss of Power, Weakness of the organs whether from imprudent habits of yuoth or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and confidential. List of questions and valuable advice free. Bend a self-adressed envelope to the France-Medical Institute, Columbus, O.

WANTED MAN To take the agency of our Bates; size 22 fails in the inches; weight 407 lbs.; retail price 353 ables aires in proportion. A rare chance and permanent business. These Bates meet a demand never before supplied by other Bate companies, as we are not governed by the Bate Pool. Address ALPINE MAKE CO., Cincinnati, Obio.

WANTEDI

Five Hundred Cords of Hard or Mixed Wood

E. B. Morehouse

Is agent for the following Fire Insurance Cos.: Westchester, of N. Y.; Germania, N. Y.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ohio Farmer's, Ohio; Fireman's, Ohio. Also agent for the MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO., of N. Y.

Notary Public and Conveyancer,

Hension Papers attended to,

Rents Collected, Taxes Paid,

And Real Estate Sold. Money to Loan on Real Estate May be found at

ALLEN & McCORKLE'S OFFICE

Commercial Readers are requested to take note of the fact that

RECEIVED THEIR FALL STOCK

HAVE

MANAGER SANGERS SANGERS

*⇒*Overcoats.

THE THE PART OF TH

Students and Young Men about town are Especially Invited to Inspect the Display in Wortley Bros. Show Windows. Particular Attention is Directed to the Fancy and Lawn Tennis Shirts, 对依然依然依然依然依然依然依然

Fine Neck Wear and Hats.

American Voters Declare Their Will at the Polls.

HARRISON THE SUCCESSFUL MAN.

New York and Indiana Both Apparently Sure for the Statesman from the Hoosier State.

CHICAGO, Nov. & .- The Times save: "Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana has been elected president of the United States, but while the doubt is past the final figures are not lyst determinable. California and West Virginia may not yet be placed with certainty, but may not yet be placed with certainty, but LATER.—Every town in the Fourth con Exercison safely has 225 electoral votes where greesional district is now heard from and the 201 would be enough, and the public can patiently await the final outcome of now doubtful, but no longer important districts,

"The apparent state of the electoral vote this morning is as follows:

FOR HARRISON.	FOR CLEVELAND.
Indiana Lowa Lowa Kansas Kaines Kassachusetta Richigan Minnesota New York Nebraska Neyrada New Hampshira Ohio. Oregon	8 Alabama. 22 Arkansas. 23 Arkansas. 24 Arkansas. 25 Connecticut. 25 Deláware. 26 Prorida. 26 Georgia. 27 Georgia. 28 Louisiana. 29 Auryland. 29 Haryland. 20 Haissouri. 20 Haississippi. 20 New Jersey. 30 Horth Carolina. 27 Ennessee. 27 Ennessee. 37 Tennessee. 4 Virginia. 4 Total. 5 10

The Times also foots up the popular ma-jorities—estimated—and gives the whole as follows: Harrison, 423,350; Cleveland, follows: 442,850.

CHAIRMAN QUAY'S STATEMENT.

New York and Indiana Both Claimed-The Empire State Vote. NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- Chairman Quay, of the Republican national committee authorthe Republican national committee, authorizes the following statement:

The Republicans on Tuesday carried by increased majorities all the states that were carried for Mr. Biaine in 1884, and in addition have Kew York by a plurality of 15,000, and Indiana by a majority of from 4,000 to 4,000. West Virginia is in doubt. Gen. Harrison's election is assured.

The unofficial vote of all the counties in the table as forces assured above cluvelities for state as far as returned show pluralities for Cleveland of 78,958, and for Harrison of 90,-147, giving Harrison a plurality in the state of 11,101.

Another estimate of the result in the state is as follows: Up to 11:80 last night complete returns had only been received from 37 of the 60 counties in New York state, exclusive the 60 counties in New York state, exclusive of New York and Kings. These counties give Harrison a net plurality of 59,070, and show a Republican gain of 18,047 over Blaine's vote in 1884. The counties yet to hear from, among them Albany, gave Blaine in 1894 a plurality of 18,280. Should Gen. Harrison do no more than maintain the vote of 1884 has alwallity contributed of New York and Kings. his plurality outside of New York and Kings

According to the returns now given in Kings county Cleveland has a plurality of 12,037, and New York county has given him 57.255. Thus it will be seen that the Republicans come to Harlem bridge with 76,850 (allowing no gains for Harrison in counties not yet reported). Kings and New York counties, according to the present returns, give Cleveland 69,292, showing a plurality in New York state for Harrison of 7,058.

Kings county, revised vote: Cleveland, 82,059; Harrison, 70,029; Fisk, 902; Cleveland's plurality, 12,037. Hill, 82,161; Miller, 68,563; Jones, 1,227; Hill's plurality, 13,663. The rumor of an error of 10,000 in the footings was a capacit the footings was a cauard.

THE VOTE IN ILLINOIS. L

Fifer Elected by About 4,000-Harrison's Plurality—The Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 8 --Governor Palmer's friends here concede his defeat by a plurality for Fifer of less than 4,000 votes. Gen. Palmer himself no longer claims to be elected, but insists that the result is still in doubt.

Returns indicate that the Republicans will have 15 majority in the house and 18 in the BELLEVILLE, Illa., Nov. 8.—The Congressional race between Jehu Baker, Rep., and Farman, Dem., in the Eighteenth Illinois district is so close that nothing but the official count can decide it. The Republicans claim the election of Baker by 200 votes, and the Democrats are equally confident that Farman has won by 150 votes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A compilation of the vote cast in this city Tuesday for president shows that Cleveland received 62,937 votes; Harrison, 59,918; Fisk, 1,272; Streeter, 553; Cowdry, 175, and Balva Lockwood, 8

The vote of 84 counties in Illinois, including Cook, shows majorities for Harrison of 38,143, and for Cleveland of 19,373. The remaining 19 counties in 1894 gave Blaine 5,884, and Cleveland 6,542. Assuming that these 18 counties, not yet fully reported, give the same result as in 1884, the state will give a plurality for Harrison of 18,912. It is safe to say, therefore, that Harrison's plurality for the same result as in 1884, the state will give a plurality for Harrison of 18,912. It rality will be about 10,000.

The congressional delegation from the city stands three Republicans-Adams, Mason, and Taylor—to one Democrat—Lawler.

Harrison carried Cook county, getting

85,223 votes to 84,370 for Cleveland, while

Palmer had 87,004, and Fifer 82,937.

THE SUNSET STATE.

San Francisco Democratic and the Victory Claimed by Both Parties.

Ban Francisco, Nov. 8.—Returns come in slowly, and there are no complete figures yet on cities and counties. Both sides claim the state. This city gives the Democratic city, state and national tickets a majority estimated by the Democrats at 8,000, and by the Republicans at 5,001. The question is whether the Republican plurality outside the city onn overcome this.

Bix hundred and twelve precincts out of 1,500 outside of San Francisco gave Harrison 47,604, Cleveland 41,815. Of a total of 55,870 votes in this city xx, 7M have been been counted for president, and Cleveland's plurality in that number is 874.

CLEVELAND'S VOTE IN MISSOURI.

Democratic Candidate for Governor Running lishind—Congression.

Br. Louis, Nov. 8.—This city elects the satire Republican city ticket. O'Nelli, Dam., In the Eighth congressional distict, and Castlaman, Dem., in the Ninth, are defeated by tasiman, Dem., in the Fints, are detected by their Republican opponents, Neidringhaus and Frank—a gain of two congressimen. The Democratic state—committee has com-

The Sovereign's Fig. 4 dicate that Cleveland will have a plurality of 80,000 in the state, and that Francis, Dem., for governor, will have a plurality of 14,000. These returns embrace the vote of St. Louis, Kaneas City, and all other large cities in the state.

THE CLOSE VOTE IN CONNECTICUT. Only 334 Democratic Plurality-Two Con-

Only 334 Democratic Flurality—Two Coagreement Gained.

Harrrorn, Conn, Nov. 8.—This state gives Cieveland a piurality of nearly 400, elects two Republican and two Democratic congressmen, and a Republican legislature, which will name the state officers, as the Democratic nomineer, although having a plurality over the Republicans fell of a machinelity over the Republicans fell of a machinelity over the Republicans. plurality over the Republicans, fail of a mapurality over the Republicans, fall of a ma-jority of the whole rote. Complete returns give Cleveland 74,904; Harrison, 74,519; Fisk, 4,181. Cleveland's plurality, 385.

For Governor, Horris, Dem., 74,944; Bulkeley, Rep., 73,426; Camp, Prohibition, 4,130. The legislature is Republican on joint ballot by 49.

figures elect Miles, Republican, by eight plurality in a vote of 41,004. Previous re-turns gave the district to Beymour, the present member. If Miles is elected there will be a gain of two Republican congressmen Connecticut instead of one. elected, according to The Courant's figures are Simonds, Russell, Miles, Republicans; Wilcox, Democrat, From The Courant's returns Cleveland's plurality is only $34. A change of 163 votes would have given the state to Harrison.

JEWETT CONCEDES INDIANA

Democrats Get the Legislature and Gain Three Congressmen.

Indianapolis, Nov. d.-The Journal has returns from 80 counties, showing net Republican gain of 7,025, and 8,500 Republican majority on national and state tickets. Democrats gain congressmen in the First, Eleventh and Twelfth districts, and elect majority in both branches of the legislature. Last night the chairman of the Democratic state committee conceded the state to the Republicans by about 2,000.

New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. & -The state (twenty-four towns and wards missing) gives twenty-tour twens and wards missing gives Harrison 43,169; Claysland, 40,421; Fisk, 1,552. Goodell, Rep., for governor, 42,198; Amsden, Dem., 41,040; Carr, Prohibition, 1,524. Goodell's plurality will be about 750, leaving no choice, as a majority is required. The legislature will doubtless elect Goodell as it is Republican. The vote is the largest every ever cast in the state. Nute, Rep., is elected to congress in the First district by about 500, and Moore, Rep., in the Second by about $1,000—a gain of one congressman for the Republicans.

Democratic Gains in Virginia. LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 8 .- Full returns from the Sixth congressional district give Cleveland 4,000 majority, a gain over 1884 of nearly 400. Edmunds, Democrats, for congress runs close to Cleveland. Hopkins, present representative, receives about 100 votes in the district as independent candidate for re-election. Reports from the Ninth district give Buchanan, Democrat, a majority of about 500. Tucker, Democrat, carries the Tenth district by 800. All of these are Democratic gains, CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 8.—The total vote of Hamilton county on the presidential ticket was: Harrison, 41,741; Cleveland, 88,215. The entire Republican ticket was elected except.Cox, candidate for county clerk, who was defeated by 2,480 votes. The Repubwas defeated by 2,480 votes. The Republicans claim the state by 25,000, and the Democrata concede 10.060. Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 8. - Returns are slow. Partial returns received up to last evening indicate a good majority for Harrison. The assembly will probably stand. Senate-19, Republicans, 6 Democrats; house-19 Republicans, 10 Democrats. Returns from 23 out of 38 counties give Cleveland 5,044, Harrison 7.664.

24,875; St. John, 9,916.

For governor—Ames, 180,439; Russell, 52,-846; Earle, 9,170. Republican plurality, 27,503. The Michigan Delegation.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 8.—The Republican elect all but three congressman in this state, a gain of two—in the Fifth and Sixth districts Belknap and Brewer, Rep., being elected. One other district, the Tenth, is claimed by both parties. The Prohibition vote is not half what it was four years ago.

Oregon and Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 8.—Returns come in slowly, but sufficient are received to show that Harrison's majority in the state is over

Allen, Dem. sis elected as delegate to congress from Washington territory by about 2,500 majority over Voorbees.

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 7.—The Evening Journal has returns from 800 towns which foot up Harrison 60,205, Cleveland 34,639, Fisk 1,969, Streeter 930. The same towns voted in September: Burleigh 63,064, Putnam 47,336, Cushing 2,376, Simmons 1,296,

West Virginia in Doubt. WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 8.—Fourteen out of twenty-four districts, casting onethird of the vote of the state, show Repub lican gains of 1,463. If corresponding gains are made in the rest of the state it will give 600 Republican majority. Weaver Defeated in lows.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 8.—Harrison's plurality in Iowa will probably exceed 30,000. Weaver in the Sixth district and Anderson in the Eighth are beaten, giving the Republicans every congressman in the state

Delaware. WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 7.—The city of Wilmington complete gives Cleveland 4,877; Harrison, 8,244; Cleveland's majority, 1,503. The state is Democratic for president, but the legislature is probably Republican.

New Jersey. TRENTON, R. J., Nov. 8.—The Democrate have the state by about 5,000. They also carry the legislature for the first time in tan It is very close, but probably gives them a United States senator.

Minnesota Reporting Slowly. St. Paul. Minn., Nov. 8.—There is nothing new to report from Minnesota. Merriam's majority for governor is about 7,000. Pour Republican congressmen have been elected.

Keystone State Returns.

The Democratic state computes has complete and incomplete raturns from about sleets 21 Republican congressman out of 28, 40 of the 114 counties in this state, which in-

THE RESULT ON CONGRESS. adjections That It Will Be Close Claims

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Press claims that the Republicans will have a majority of 14 in the next house of representatives and that the senate will be a tie, Vice President

Figure 1. The Press Claims of the president of the president of the pressure of the president of the presid Morton having the casting vote. It says Riddleberger's successor, Barlow, is a Demo-crat, which makes the senate stand 38 to Sa, because New Jersey will elect a Democrat in place of McPherson. The Republicans may secure the legislature in West Virginia. If so they will have one majority in the sen-ate, but if Kenna's successor is a Democrat the senate will be a tie.

The World says the Democrate will have a majority of 7 in the house, and may lose one senator from Delawara.

The Sun says it may take the official count in several doubtful districts to determine the political complexion of the house in the Fifty-first congress. The Republicans make a surprising sweep of the city of St. Louis and carried, apparently, three close districts in Michigan now represented by Dem-crate and have captured the dis-tricts of Weaver and Anderson, Dem-crate, in Iowa Jehu Baker, Republican, is beaten in Morrison's district. The Republicans have carried the Cleveland district in Ohio and two Minnesota districts now represented by Democrata. One Republican congressman has been gained in Tennessee. The smocrats have gained four or five districts

There are enough doubtful districts vet unreported in various states to turn the majority five or six either way. The New York delegation is unchanged. The Repub-licans elected Stivers over Bacon in the Orange district, and the Democrats Wiley over Crowley in the Niagara district.

MAY TRY HER NEW GUNS.

The Boston Authorized to Deal Energetic ally with Hayti.

Washington City, Nov. 5.—The seigure of the American ship Haytian Republic by the authorities at Port-au-Prince, Hayti, as a blockade runner, has given rise to considerable talk in official circles. The alleged reason for this seizure was stated that the ship contained arms and ammunition the Revolutionists, and the seizure of a British ship a few days later for the same reason proved the Haytian government had established a blockade against all nations. The acting secretary of state said that the action of the Haytian governtment was all wrong, as it would soon find out. When a government contemplated such a step the proper thing to do is to have the blockade first effected and established and then to notify the maritime nations of the world that its ports are block aded. This the Haytian government did not do. The steel cruiser Boston has been sent to Port-au-Prince, and whatever American by Capt, Ramsey. IOWA JOBBERS REJOICE.

MAP OF THE ISLAND OF BATTL

vessels are detained will be at once set free, or there will be more than diplomatic work

Railway Commissioners Reaffirm Their Schedule of June 28.

DES MOINES. Iowa. Nov. 3.-The most important decision ever made by the Iowa railroad commissioners was filed Saturday morning in the case of the complaints of Davenport, Dubuque and Burlington job The commissioners reaffirm their schedule of June 23 in the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth classes, and A, B, C. D. and E classes, with the addition of the lumber rates, in the Burlington case the western classification being adopted in lieu of the Illinois classification.

The decision is signed by Commissioners Smith and Campbell, Commissioner Dey re-fusing to sign on the ground that Mr. Fred Wilde, of Davenport, secretary of the Twin Cities Freight association, in a letter dated Oct. 31, threatened him with the opposition of the jobbers unless he signed the decision by Friday, Nov. 2. "In this situation," says Dey, in a note to the press, "I am compelled by my feeling of self-respect to decline until after the election to give any expression of my views upon the subject."

The decision causes great rejoicing among the jobbers and manufacturers here, as it Oakland, Cal., Nov. 5—The trains, ferry puts the commissioners' schedule in force deite the Brewer and Fairali injunctions.

Children Burn Up $900.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.-Mr. and Mrs. Gobe, of 1037 West Twenty-second street, met with hard luck Saturday afternoon when, by accident, they lost the savings of years, amount ing in all to $900. Mr. Gobe is employed in the malleable iron works, and when he went home from work Saturday he found his wife in great distress. She had placed their sayings, which were in paper money, in an old stocking and hidden them under the bed. It was discovered by the children, who, after playing with the bills for some time, threw them in the stove. The money was almost entirely cousumed before the accident was

A 16-Teal Old Counterfelter.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. Sapt. Porter and the secret service officers are engaged in a hunt secret service officers are engaged in a number of the for a lt-year-old counterfeiter who has thus far been successful in passing a number of poorly executed $5 bills. Wednesday evening the lad jumped on several State street cable cars, in each instance paying his fare calle cars, in each instance paying his tare with one of the bills. When he received the $4.45 in change he jumped off. The letter "t" in the line "payable to the bearer" was not crossed, and the letter "r" in "bearer" fell miniewhat below the line. The bills had vignettes of Gen. Grant, which were coarsely executed.

Two Victims of Strong Drink. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Burghall lived at 450 Austin avenue, this city. They were both hard drinkers, and yesterday moreing Mrs. Burghall, who had served several terms in the bridewell for drunkenness, died of chronic alcoholism. At nightfall the husbard, William Burghall, followed in a dit of apoplexy, which seized him when the news of the other's death was received. They leave two children girls 18, and 7, and a son leave two children, girls 13 and 7, and a son who is a young man. Won 500 Sovereigns.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—At the Liverpool autumn meeting Tuesday, the race for the Knowsley Nursery stakes of 500 sovereigns, was won by Capt. Jones' bay colt, Theophilus. Mr. Mackenzie's bay filly, The Kelpic, was second, and Ixia third. There were trailer electrical. twelve starters.

Mrs. Brown Gives Ball.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Barah E. Brown, indicted by the grand jury of Cerro Gordo county for committing a double murder, gave ball Monday in the sum $7,000, Judge George Vermilys, her uncle, being one of the bondsmen.

Blown from the Mine.

Explosion.

nineteen mangled viotims found

Sixteen of Them Dead and Horribly Muti tilated-Only One Out of Twenty Escapes -Three Blown an Almost Incredible Distance—A Girls' School in Flames Narrow Escape of the Paulo-Stricken Inmstee-Twenty-Two Lives Lost at See -Miscellaneous Mishans.

RENOVA, Pa., Nov. 5,-Sixteen dead and horribly mangled bodies are lying on hastily constructed tables in a small blacksmith shop at Cook's Run, ten miles above here. the result of the most disastrous accident that has ever o curred in this part of Pennavlvania. The Cook's Run mines employ about 100 men, but for some reason only twenty were at work on Saturday afternoon, when an explosion occurred, which resulted in the instant death of sixteen miners and the probable fatally injuring of three others The explosion took place in one of the many gas pockets of the mines about 250 feet from the opening. One miner, who was working some distance away, was blown through the air-shaft and his body was not found until 9 o'clock yesterday morning when it was discovered in a brush pile. Two others were burled out at the mouth of the mine, and their lifeless bodies were found 170 feet from where they had been em-

Superintendent George Miller states that the explosion has a parallel only in the Poca-hontas mine disaster, and that the cause of it will, perhaps, never be learned. Hun-dreds of people from the neighborhood viaited the scene of the disaster yesterday. Fragmen: of clothing worn by the vio-tims of the disaster are scattered among the limbs of the surrounding trees, some of them fifty feet above the ground. Five of the killed are Swedes, six Italians, two Irish and three Hungarians.

and three Hungarians.

The following are the names of the killed;
John Carisen, aged 25; Charies Alman; John Anderson, aged 20; Martin Pierson, aged 30; Aaron Carlsen, aged 85; John Beckus, aged 22; Stephen Beckus, aged 23; Michael Marcy, aged 22; Bylvester Marcy, aged 20;
Dom Closkey, aged 40; George Melleto, aged 32; Maurics Yanks, aged 27, and two unknown—all unmarried; Michael Curran, aged 37, wife and eight children; Patrick Donley, aged 55, wife and seven children. aged 55, wife and seven children.

PANIC IN A SEMINARY.

A Girls' School Burned and Its Occupant Badly Frightened. GODFREY, Ills., Nov. 5 .- The Monticello

eminary for Young Ladies was burned at o'clock yesterday morning. There were 125 girls, a staff of teachers and a dozen female servants in the building when the fire broke out, all of whom narrowly escaped death. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the girls on the fifth floor were awakened by a suffocating smoke, and on opening their windows saw a red glare below them in the main building. The halls were filled with smoke, but the older students and the teachers braved the danger resolutely, and staggered through the upper floors, arousing the girls and ordering them to jun for the rear stairway. The girls lesped out of bed in their nightclothes, and without trying to save even their wearing appears fled screening through the halls and down the stairways. Many of them showed rare presence of mind, but the majority were in a frenzy bordering on insanjority were in a frenzy cordering on insan-ity. The teachers proved equal to the crists and bravely stood their ground until every student was rescued. Two servants, who could not be controlled, jumped from windows and were badly injured. They were carried to the nearest residence and given the best of medical attention.

The building was five stories high, built of gray stone overrun with ivy and flowers. Pretty sum ier houses dotted the grounds and altogether it was one of the most romantic spots in the state. The seminary was built in 1845 by Benjamin Godfrey, the founder and benefactor of the institution. Since then a number of additions have been made. The total loss is $250,000.

Miraculous Escape from Death.

brought thousands of visitors to the city Sat urday night, who came to witness the Republican torch-light parade. A band wagon from Temescat, containing seventeen persons, while attempting to cross the tracks, was struck by the Oregon express train, as it rounded the curve, and four horses drawing the vehicle were killed, while all of the par-sengers miraculously escaped injury.

Later in the night, a train of empty passenger coaches was run into by the Alan express, a conductor on the former being fatally injured.

Twenty-Two Persons Drowned at Sea. LONDON, Nov. 5.-The steamer Saxmundham was sunk off Cowes yesterday by col-lision with the Norwegian ship Bjonnes. Twenty-two of the persons on the Saxmund-bam are missing. Eight survivors have been landed at Weymouth, The Bjonnes was abandoned by her crew, who have been landed at Portland.

Three Man Lose Their Lives. BOSTON, Nov. 5 - James Haves, Henry Formley and William Sellan were drowned in Rochester bay yesterday afternoon, their sail boat having capsized. Charles Cogan, who was with the party, was rescued.

A Philadelphia Assignment. PRILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—William Tetlow, a large manufacturer on Phillip street, has made an assignment. The liabilities amount

The Dastard Train Wrecker.

WARARH, Ind., Nov. 7.—Passengers on the north-bound Cincinnati, Wabsah & Michi-gan passenger train which left here Monday evening had a narrow escape at a point five miles from this city. While the train was making forty miles an hour Engineer Eugene Taylor saw an obstruction on the track, but before he could reverse the engine a collision occurred. The locomotive leaped over the obstruction and partially cleared it. The shock was terrific. It was found that iron rails had been put in a cattle-guard and braced with cross-ties.

Four Negroes Drowned.

LITTLE ROCE, Ark., Nov. &-At 8 o'clock Sunday night William Brazieton accompanied by five other colored persons entered a boat to cross the Arkansas river at a point in Faulkner county about thirty miles from here. Midway in the stream the boat ran on a log and was capsized, thro ving all the co-cupants into the water. Braslaton and a s8year-old boy were rescued the other four being drowned. Two of the bodies were re-covered Monday morning.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, inventor and placed in his hands by an East india missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy aud permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis. Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints' after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his auffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, Fronch or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Bent by mail french or English, with this directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 149 Power, a Block, Rochester, N. Y. 83y1

You may light another's candle atyour own without loss.

THE HOMELIEST MAN IN YPSI. A well as the handsomest, and others, are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Remp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is selling entirely upon its merits, and is guaranteed to relieve and curp all chronic and south Courte. and acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, and Consumption. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

While the great bells are ringing no one hears the small ones.

Babies are too highly prized to permit them to suffer with colic, flatulence, etc., when Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup will at once relieve them. Price 25 cents.

A purely vegetable, but most efficacious purgative is offered to the public in Laxador. For sale by all druggists. Price only 25 cents.

only 25 cents. Even that fish may be caught that strives the hardest ugainst it.

My son has been afflicted with nasal catarrh since quite young. I was induced to try Ely's Cream Balm, and before he had used one bottle that disagreeable ca-tarrhul smell had all left him. He ap-pears as well as well as anyone. It is the best catarrh remedy in the market. J. C. Olmsted, Arcola, Ill.

Mr. A. Nichola suffered from catarrh for years. He purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm of us. He is now almost cured, and says you cannot recommend it too highly.—Evers Bros., Druggists, Independence. Iowa.

The mouth often utters that which the head must answer for.

ERUPTION OF THE SKIN CURED. Brockville, Ontario, Canada,) December 2, 1885.

I have used Brandreth's Pills for the past fifteen years, and think them the best cathartic and anti-billious remedy known. cathartic and anti-billious remedy known. For some five years I suffered with an eruption of the skin that gave me great pain and annoyance. I tried different blood remedies, but, although gaining strength, the itching was unrelieved. I finally concluded to take a thorough course of Brandreth's Pills. I took six each night for four nights, then five, four, three two lessening seet time by one three, two, lessening each time by one, and then for one mouth took one every night, with the happy result that now my skin is perfectly clear and has been so

Ed. Venney. You must judge a maiden at the kneading trough, not in a dance.

Advice to Mothers.

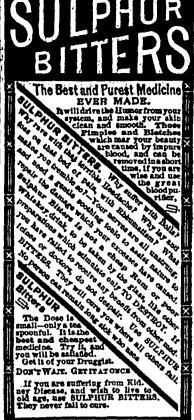

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowets, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoa, whether arising from for diarrhoa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

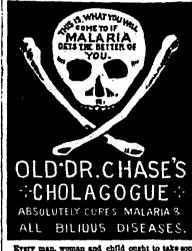

THE CHEWERS OF OLD HONESTY TOBACCO

WILL SOON FIND THAT IT LASTS LONGER, TASTES SWEETER THAN OTHER TO-BACCOS, AND WILL DLEASE YOU. ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT. AND INSIST ON GETTING IT. EVERY PLUG STAMPED LIKE

ΛΒΟ√Ε CÚŢ. JNO. FINZER & BROS., Louisville, Ky.

Send 8 3-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., leaton, Mass., for best medical work published?

Every man, woman and child ought to take some Brain's medicine, ought to "clean bouse" as it were. A prominent Detroit Banker says: "I take one or two bottles of

CHOLACOCUE MALARIA, BILIOUSNESS,

FEVER AND AGUE,
Aches in the bones that Spring brings to one-half the people. For sale at Drug stores; if not, send $1.00 for a bottle. CHASE MEDICINE CO., Detroit, Milch. FARRARD, WILLIAMS & CO. Wholesale Agu.

WOUNDS, IN-FANT'S SORES AND CHAFING, AN INVALU-FOR CATARRH. -:--:-

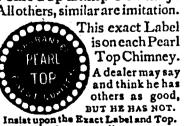

RELIABLE DRUGGISTS SELL IT ON A POSITIVE GUARANTEE

Sold by A. D. Morford.

The BUYERS GUIDE is issued March and Sept., each year. It is an encyclopedia of useful information for all who purchase the luxuries or the necessities of life. We can clothe you and furnish you with all the necessary and unnecessary appliances to ride, walk, dance, sleep, eat, fish, hunt, work, go to church, or stay at home, and in various sises, or stay at home, and in various sises or stay at home, and in various sizes, styles and quantities. Just figure out what is required to do all these things COMFORTABLY, and you can make a fair estimate of the value of the BUYERS GUIDE, which will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents to pay postage, MONTGOMERY WARD & CO. 111-114 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

This is the Top of the GENUINE Pearl Top Lamp Chimney. Allothers, similar are imitation.

FAR BALE EVERYWHERE. MADE BULY BY

BEO. A. MACBETH & CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. A. P. SAWYER MEDICINE CO., Chicago. 91.00—ONE MONTH'S TREATMENT—81.00.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Rev. Samual Sepions, who died at St. Johns recently at the mature age of S3, had devoted 55 years of his life to the ministry 43 of which were spent in Michigan.

White the East Baginaw police were napplng the other night, burglars drilled a safe on Washington avenue and abstracted the cash contents therefrom. The safe stood within two inches of the plate glass front, the moon shows brightly and the glare of the electric lights danced merrily, and yet not a soul discovered the robbery until the sun was peering above the eastern horizon.

Don't send your duns on postal cards. It's not the proper caper, and the law says it isn't legal. A Sparta merchant tried it, and now wishes he hadn't, as the simple act has brought him a whole heap of trouble.

The climate of Muskegon seems to be favorable for the production of strawberries and sawdust. But that's not all. Michael Cowley, of that city, has taken the $150 prize, offered by a Philadelphia seedsman, for the largest cablage grown in the United States. It weighed 62% pounds.

The steamer C. P. Fish was burned in the Saginaw river on the 27th ult. All the passengers were rescued.

Some Unadilla chap seems to have developed a passionate fondness for celery. A farmer of that place had a whole half-acre of the esculent stolen in a single night.

East Saginaw capitalists are skirmishing around the Flushing coal fields in the expectation of discovering a place for profitable investment.

The F. & P. M. railway is short at least 200 cars with which to handle its business, but as other railways are pretty much in the same fix, they are unable to borrow of their neighbors, and shippers continue to use emphatic language because their freight doesn't move on time.

A Dansville man who marched with Sherman to the sea and did his share toward making the Johnnie's capitutate, came home when the "cruel war" was over, married and settled down to the joys of domestic happiness, but was disappointed by the unfaithful-ness of his wife, is now living a hermit's life in the woods not far from that town. He lives in a 10x12 cabin, cooks his own grub and works for neighboring farmers just enough to support himself and his sole com-enough to support bimself and his sole com-panion—a maitese cat.

Some years ago Josi W Hamilton effected a sale of the Ann Arbor Register for Prof. Frotbingham, and claimed a compensation refor of $1,23—but didu't get it. Then Joel sought the assistance of the circuit court, recovering judgment for the amount, but the supreme court kicked over his Jersey dish. Twice since them has the game be played over with the same results, the last decision of the Lansing tribunal being ren dered a few days ago.

After duly considering the matter the supreme court says the Cleveland Iron Mining company pay Mrs. Andrew Haleby $5,000 on account of her husband's death by a mine accident in 1875, Delta avenue, at Gladstone, is one of the finest paved streets in the state, and yet that town isn't two years old.

The big $300,000 damage suit of C. H. Plummer, against East Saginaw parties, on account of non-fulfillment of a lumber contract, resulted in a judgment of $5,000.

Fire damaged Hodges' iron works at Han-cock $15,000 worth on the 26th. Insurance,

If Orin Safford, an old-timer of Flint, is able to get to the polls on Nov. 6, he will cast his twentieth successive presidential ballot. Not many men can boast of such

A little Dover girl tried to warm the baby while her parests were away from home, but getting too near the stove her own clothing caught fire, burning her in a horrible mar She died in great agony twenty-four hours later.

Burglars made the circuit of New Boston business houses and raked in a snug wad in cash, and a lot of other truck. Whoever will bring back the perpetrators can have $100 and no questions asked.

V. V. Bidwell, of Waldron-Bidwell notoriety, has again changed his vocation. He no longer sells groceries, but is running a harness shop instead.

J. W. Switzer, a Montague physician for the past fourteen years, was found dead in the street on the morning of the Sist. He was a successful practitioner and highly re spected.

William M. Kehr and Louis Samuels. boarders at the Flint calaboose on account of burglary charges, were released by a chore boy the other evening and made good their . The boy went also.

An Ypsilanti student lugged off a gate on halloween, and it wasn't a very good gate, either, but he paid a $15 fine for his fun just

An East Saginaw man was awakened the other night by a strange noise and sprang out of bed to investigate, alighting on a burglar's back. But the burglar didn't care to get acquainted, and throwing his rider to the floor, leaped from an opon window and vanished in the darkness.

Martin McNearney, the Mud Lake man who was convicted of keeping a house of un savory reputation and sentenced to spen three years at the Jackson prison, has failed to show up at that institution. Crooked work on the part of Alcona county's sheriff is suspected.

The chap who hallow'eened the depot safe at Saranac got just 38 cents for his trouble The Grand Rapids man who suspected his wife of being unfaithful and got a detective to help him watch their home on a recent dark night is altozether sick of his conduct The wife, seeing the men outside, sailled forth with a shillalah and gave 'em both a good drubbing.

Although it seems almost late enough t be out of season, lightning got away with Michael Mierzwas' home at Manistee on the night of the Sist ult. Loss, $1,500.

The Calumet & Hecla Mining company seeking more world's to conquer, paid $500, 000 for furty acres of rocky northland, Cop per is a high-priced fruit.

Port Huron people carry $700,000 life in-surance in a New York company. Mrs. Frances Clark, an 83 year-old red dent of Brighton, was fatally burned the other afternoon by going into a smoke-bouse Ed Steele, an Alpena railway conductor receives $3,500 accident insurance for the loss of a leg in a railway smashup. William Ainsley, the missing Williamston postmaster, has returned, and claims the stories about his regard for another man's wife are false. He took a trip down into Indiana just because he took a notion to do so Hallow'sen was a high old time in many Michigan towns, but the university student at Ann Arbor seem to have been the only nocturnal marauders who landed in the cala

C. P. Farr, a Hanilac county farmer, pride himself on a barley crop that threshed 42% bushels per acra. If any other Michigan farmer can beat it, Mr. T. would like his postoffice address. John Bette was an inmate of the Montcalm county poorhouse, but became tired of his surroundings and made his escape. Wander. ing out into a swamp be got stuck fast, and before he was rescuid came near perishing from cold and exposure. John beta high that he'll let well enough alone hereafter.

It is announced that Frank Godfrey, of the state printing house of Thorp & Godfrey, at Lansing, has withdrawn from that firm and will sogage in business at Detroit.

SHE WAS A HOLY TERROR.

Detroit Husband Tells a Harrowing Tale of Married Life.

M. Fisher, 50 years of age, a millionaire of Detroit, and Frances A Garrison, 55 years of age, were married. They went on a wedding tour to California. A month later, while in Hanta Barbara, be alleges that his wife yelled one night so long and so loud that half the people in the hotel awaks and listened. They traveled around California for about two mouths, and at almost every hotel Mr. Fisher alleges that his wife repeated the Santa Bar-bara performance. On May 1 this curious honeymoon terminated, and they settled down in this city. Then their diffi-culties began in earnest. Mr. Fish-er charges that his wife circu-lated scandalous stories about him and an innocent young woman living in the household, and even went so far as to give nousened, and even went so far as to give such stories circulation through a newspa-per. One evening in November, 1835, Mr. Fisher states that his wife "began to talk at him," and continued the Caudie lecture until 3 o'clock the next morning without inter-mission. At that hour Mr. Fisher timidly attempted to talk back, when she sprang from the bed, he says, and hit him in the face several times, knocking him out in the first round, as he confesses. On May 29 last he filed a bill for divorce, and alleged the foregoing acts of cruelty on her part. Mrs. Fisher did not file an answer, and Judge Gartner yesterday granted the divorce. Mrs. Fisher is worth $150,000 in her own right, and both parties to the suit are well

A LYNCHING IN MICHIGAN.

The Brutal Assailant of Two Women

Hung by a Mob.
GRAYLING, Mich., Nov. 8.—Archibald Pelon, a dissolute character, was taken from the sheriff early yesterday morning by thirty masked men and hanged to a tree. Last Monday Pelon brutally assulted an aged widow, who lived alone on the outskirts of the village, and while an angry mob was searching for him entered another house and repeated his crime. The second and repeated woman, whose who repeated his crima. The second victim was a young married woman, whose husband was absent in pursuit of Pelon at the time. The men who did the lynching are known, but it is bardly probable that any legal measures will be taken against them.

Got Drunk, Voted, and Cut His Throat. MARQUETTE, Mich., Nov. 7 .- John Daiy, who has been prominent as a political agita tor and a high officer in the leading labor or for and a high officer in the leading labor or-ganization here, has been on a protracted spree. Tuesday morning he voted, and soon after he was arrested, being raving drunk. He had been in jail but half an hour when it was discovered that he was cutting his throat with a small penknife. The weapon was taken away from him and a physician artaken away from him and a physician arrived in time to save his life.

A Lake Sailor Drowned.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Nov. 3.—The schooner McLaren arrived Friday evening with her colors at half-mast, and reports that a Nor-wegian sailor named Johnston, near Point Betay, fell from the main cross-tree Thurs-day, striking the rail, and bounding over the side. He disappeared in the vortex. The vessel made an effort to rescue him, but

THE NEW CHARGE D'AFFAIRES.

Something About His Philanthrople

Mother—His Coming Marriage.

Washington Cirr, Nov. 5.—Lady Herbert, mother of the Hon. Michael Herbert, recently appointed charge d'affaires of the British legation here, is the guest at Doughergan manor, Maryland, of ex-Governor and Mrs. Carroll. Lady Herbert is an authoress of European celebrity. She is the mother of ten children, her eldest son being the earl of Pembroke. She is devoting her talents and a large part of her income to charitable and religious work amongst the colored race, and, as an evidence of her carnestness in this respect, she gives the proceeds of the rental of her London bouse to the support of an orphanage of eighty children in London. The marriage of Mr. Herbert will take place in New York city on Nov. 27. The bride-elect is Miss Wilson, and after their wedding journey they will colored race, and, as an evidence of her earnestness in this respect, she gives the pro-ceeds of the rental of her London house to come to this city, where Lady Herbert will Honor the tree that gives you shelter. them. Lady Herbert has a large circle of American acquaintances, and her tour in this country will be replete with interest, both socially and in other ways, Terrible Fight with a Maniac.

ABERDEEN, D. T., Nov. 5.—Hiram Baker, a farmer, living near Bath, came to this city and reported a terrible fight he had with a maniac named Place. Thursday night Place and Baker slept together at the latter's place. About midnight Place, who had acted strangely for some days, became violently insane and attacked Baker in the dark, swearing he would kill him. After receiving a number of blows with a chair, and having his face and hands terribly scratched

Leach, aged 24, daughter of Leinnel Leach, of this city, has instituted a suit asking $10, 000 damages for breach of promise of marriage against Henry H. Litchfield, aged 40, a Trial t well known real estate agent of Boston and Plymouth. The parties became acquainted in the spring of 1887 and were to have been married last December. The respondent has twice been married, and both wives are now living, but both have obtained divorces from him.

Offered Freedom on Condition. Dublin. Nov. 6 .- The Freeman's Journa asserts that all government prisoners in Irpland who are serving sentences for being concerned in dynamite plots, were offered their freedom if they would give evidence WATLING & JAMES,—J. A. Watling, D. D. S.

sion, and they all refused the offer. Dropped Dead While on Parade. NEW YORK, Nov. 5. - William J. Osborne b5 years old, of 49 Sidney place, Brooklyn, while marching up Fifth avenue in the Republican parade Saturday afternoon, dropped dead at Twenty-fourth street. His budy was sent to the West Thirtieth street police sta-for The Times before the Parnell commistion and his friends notified, Rode Down the Village Milkman. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Six young sports riding mustangs early Monday morning galoped into College Point, L. L, and rode lown the village milkman, John Dressler, GOT THE BEST OF THE DOCTOR. W. F. Beyer, Garretsville, Ohio, says: By wife has been troubled with Catarrh "My wife has been troubled with Catarrh a long time, but have with what remedies we had, and what the doctor could do, kept the upper hand of it until this fail, when everything failed. Her throat was raw as far as one could see, with an incessant cough, when I invested my dollar in a bottle of your Papillon Catarrh Cure as a last resort. To-day she is free from cough, throat all healed and entirely cured." Papillon (extract of flax) Catarrh Cure effects cures when all others, fail. Large bottles $1.00, at A...D. Morford's Drug Store.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—In 1884 Maxwell Drug Store.

When fools go to market the huskster

Buckin's Arnica Saive.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, ver sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chil-blains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect Satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Frank, mith

When it rains porriage the beggar has

A friend induced me to try Salvation Oil for my rheumatic foot, I used it and the rheumatism is entirely gone. JOHN H. ANDERSON, Baltimore, Md.

Positive and unsolicited testimony from every section confirms every claim made for the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

THE POSTMASTER.

Of bad debtors you may take spoilt her

Winchester, Mass., says: I am personally acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Carleton, and was astonished at the remarkable effects of your Sulphur Bitters in curing their son, and its large sale is undoubtedly due to the fact that it is an honest medicine. I know of many others who have been cured by its use, and I do not think too much can be said in its preise. think too much can be said in its praise. Yours truly, Gro. P. Brown, P. M. 8485

Man proposes, God disposes,

Erglish Spavin Liniment removes all Hard, Boft, or Calloused Lumps and Biemishes from horses, Blood Spavin, Curbs. Splints. Sweeney Ring-bone, Stiffes, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, Etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted. Sold by A. D. Morford, Druggist, Ypsilanti, Mich. 18 May 6 mo.

Distrust is poison to friendship.

SOME FOOLISH PEOPLE Allow a cough to run until it gets be-yond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away." but in most case it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is said on a positive guarantee to the they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 20 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. At all druggists.

Look not a gift horse in the mouth.

THE BEST PHYSICIANS OUTDONE. J. A. Crawford says: "I have had the worst form of Eczema two years, and found no relief from some of our best physicians who have made this disease specialty. I was persuaded to try Papillon (extract of flax). The relief I received was like a charm and I am well. I think Papilion one of the blessings of the age." Try Papilion (extract of flax) Skin Cure when all others fail. Large bottles $1.00, at A. D. Morford's Drug Store.

We must suffer much, or die young. WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discov-ery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnics Salve for four years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these

FOR OVER THREE MONTHS ny son suffered night and day with rheumatism; so much so that he was unable to feed himself. Your Sulphur Bitters cured him, and I am truly thankful to say they are an honest medicine. - Mrs. W. H. CARLETON, wife of Deacon Carleton, First Baptist Church, Winchester. Mass. 8485

We must sow even after a bad harvest.

PERSONAL.

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile, Ala., writes: I take great pleasure in rec-ommending Dr. King's New Discovery ing a number of both properties of the propertie of which I can recommend.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consmption, Coughs and Colds, is sold on a positive guarantee.
Trial bottles free at Frank Smith's Drug

BANKERS.

HEMPHILL, BATCHELDER & Co., Bankers corner of Congress and Huron Streets, Tp allanti.

DENTISTS.

WATLING & JAMES,—J. A. Walling, D. D. S., L. M. James, D. D. S.,—Dentists, Huron St. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered when necessary

A. B. BRLI., DERTIST, VANTUYI Block, Con-gress street, over A. D. Morford's drug store. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered when neces-sary.

PHYBICIANS.

JAMES HUESTON, M. D., Physician and Surgeon. Residence, corner Huron and Surgeon. Rilis streets.

C. W. MEAD, M. D. D. S. Office over Frank Smith's Drug Store. Office hours 1:30 to $a. m. and 1:30 to $p. m., and in the evening. Teeth extracting a specialty.

killing him instantly. They then rode away at full gallop, and have not yet been appropriate and Adams streets.

MRS. B. S. SPENCER, Teacher of Oil Painting, William D. HARRIMAN, at full gallop, and have not yet been appropriate, Congress and Adams streets.

[A true Copy] Judge of Probate, Congress and Adams streets.

The celebrated cutlery represented above is for sale by

F. A. OBERST.

The Depot Stationer and Confectionery Dealer. The best of Oysters always on hand.

BRING YOUR

To the Woolen Factory at Rawsonville and get it made into first class Yarn. Flanuel, Knit goods, or almost, anything you want at reasonable prices, or on Stephenson's Photo-Art Gallery.

CALL AT

--- FOR ---

THE VERY BEST PHOTOS

~~ AT ~~ REDUCED RATES.

Copying and Enlarging old pictures a specialty.

Studio, Over Post Office. C. E. Cooper.

Artist.

NO Iron passing through the Rub-board to SOIL or TEAR the clothes. Gearing Adjus-table. Superior to the old Monitor Washer, which has had a run of 14 years and thousands now in use. Send for Circular. Address Parsons Bros., Tpsilanti, Mich

LEGAL

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

In the matter o the estate of Willis S. Hartley, a minor.
Notice is hereby given that, by virtues of license and authority granted to me by the Proshate Court for the County of Clare, Michigan, I will sell at public auction, to the highest hidder upon the premises, in the City of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan, on Monday, the 19th day of November, 1888, at ten o'clock in the foremoon, all the title and interest of said minor in and to the following described parcels of land, to wit: Lots nine, ten, eleven and twelve in block seven Morse & Balentine's addition to the village (now city) of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan; also lots one, two and seven in Block two in Morse & Balentine's addition aforesaid; also lot eleven in Cross and Shutt's addition to the village of Ypsilanti aforesaid. Subject to all incumbrances by mortgage, or otherwise, existing at the time of the death of Nora Hartley the mother of said minor.

CHANCERY SALE In the matter o the estate of Willis S. Harr

CHANCERY SALE.

CHANCERY SALE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. THE CHROUT COURT FOR THE COURTY OF WASHITENAW: In Chancery. In a case therein pending, wherein Jane P. Forbes is complainant, and Fred L. Thompson, alled J. Thompson, and George C. Cooper, are defendants, in pursuance and by virtue of a decretal order, made in said cause on the third day of October, 1898, I shall sell, to the highest bidder, at public auction, at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, in said county, that being the building wherein the Circuit Court for said County is held, on Monday the 10th day of Dec. next, at 10 o'clock in the forenon, the following lands and premises, situated in the City of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw County, Michigan, viz.: Beginning at the north-along the west line of said lot, cloven rods, thence cast parallel with Oak attreet, to the east line of said lot, to 'Oak street, thence west, slong the north side of said lot, to the place of beginning.

Bated Oct. 23, 1888.

Frank JOSLYN, Circuit Court Commissioner in and for Wash-

Dated Oct, 23, 1888.
FRANK JOSLYN,
Circuit Court Commissioner in and for Wash-tensaw County, Michigan.
THOMAS NINDS, Soliction for Complainant.

PROBATE ORDER ESTATE OF ROWIN R. FORSYTH. STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, 64

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the 18th day of October in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-right. Present, WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN, Judge of Probate.

Probate.

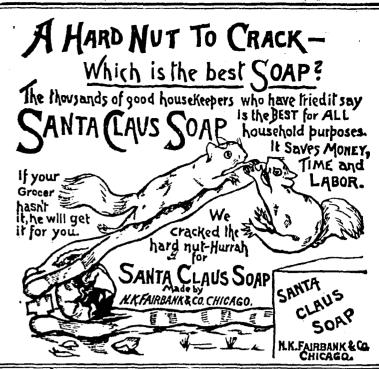

In the matter of the estate of Edwin R, Forsyth deceased, Mary A. Forsyth the administrator of said estate, comes into court and represents that she is now prepared to render her final account as such administrator.

her final account as such administrator.

Thereupon it is Ordered, That Tuesday, the thirteenth day of November next, at tenoclock in the forenoon, he assigned for examining and allowing such account, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, and show cause, if any there is, why the said secount should not be allowed.

And it is further ordered that said adminis-And it is further ordered that said suminis-trator give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said secount and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the YPHILARTI COM-MERCIAL a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to-said day of hearing.

WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN.

BICYCLE, TRICYCLE, SAFETY RAMBLER, or TANDEM.

And Wheelmen's Supplies,

OI CALL ON IO

Ed. Wallace,

Catalogue & Prces. No. 5 Union Block.

New

Having purchased the Livery formerly owned by J. M. Orcutt, am specially well equipped for all business in this line. Carriages, Cutters and Horses for Pleasure Rides or Special Trips, at Lowest Rates. Rigs by the

Z. Buck, Ypsilanti Office at Barn, near Huron St. Telephone Connection.

SMOKED MEATS

Do you want first-class Smoked Hams Shoulder or Bacon? If so you can find

C. S. SMITH'S.

The Best machinery in the city for cutting sausage meat to order.

EAST SIDE MARKET. CROSS STREET

"JONES HE PAYS THE FREIGHT"

Scales of all Sizes. 5 Ton Wagon Scale with Brass Tare Beam and Beam Box, $60. For free Price List of all kinds, address JONES OF BINCHAMTON, BINOHERTON, N. Y.

A Fine Farm

-Located in Central Kansas,-

For City Property. For particulars enquire of eeh's Cotton Root Compound.—Composed of Cotton Root, Tany and Penartoyal. Receasely used monthly. Bafa. Rectual, Pleasant. 8 by mail, or druggists. bealed particulars I stamps. Ladies address POMD Lity CollegaNy. Si Woodward ave., Detroit, Sick. Sold by all druggists in Tpslianti.

G. E. WATERMAN, Congress St., Ypsilanti.

First National Bank, YPSILANTI, MICH.

CAPITAL. $75,000. SURPLUS, 25,000 Stockholders' Liabilities, $150,000.

-INTEREST PAID -IN TIME CERTIFICATES.

DIRECTORS: D. L. QUIRE, S. H. DODGE, E. F. C. S. WORTLEY, CHAS. KING, OFFICERS: B. F. URL

President-D. L. Quirk. Vice President—Chas. King. Cashier—W. L. PACK

Sweet.

SUCCESSOR TO

A. W. STRAIGHT, DEALER IN Kerosine and Gasoline.

If you will be sure to place your cans where they can be seen from the street, we will fill them promptly with the best quality of oil or gasoline, at the lowest market price. Trips made daily to all parts of the city.

E. L. SWEET.

Residence Cor. Normal and Pearl sts.

USE A PAINT

Guaranteed.

If you are not satisfied with the paint after giving it a fair trial on a building, it will be

PAINTED AGAIN

This is the way Longman & Martinez, of New York, do business. Their paints are handled in Ypsilanti by DIDGUNIG DDUG randun d dhud.

Who, in connection with their other enterprises are prepared to furnish

PAINTS & PAINTERS!

SPECIAL OFFER TO OUR READERS. THE YANKEE BLADE AT ONLY HALF PRICE.

200,000 READERS EACH WEEK. Unquestionably the Largest, Brightest, Handsomest, and Chespest Weekly Family Story Paper in America, Family Story Paper in America.

The Yankes Blade is a mammoth paper, containing in every lause eight large pages, forty-eight columns of the choicest reading for the whole family, embracing Serial and short Stories, Exectens, Poems, History, Biography, Wis and Humor, Fashions, Household Recipes, Fancy-Work Department, Interesting and Institutive Anticles for Swith storiet, quoted everywhere, is edited by Isan Waiter Foss, the well-known contributor to all the leading Hemorous Publications of America.

Its Fancy-Work Department, indeed the control of Eva M. Niles, the leading American authority on Fancy Needlework Designs.

Its Household Department, edited by the well-known talented authoress Trebor Officentials the only authorized reports of the smous hoston Cooking-school lectures, given ins the only suthorized reports of the us Boston Cooking-School lectures, gives annuar means again with a sach werk.

Its Literary Department contains fas-inating stories of Hunting, Travel, and Adven-ture for the boys and men, and stories of Love and the Family Firestde for the isdfee, by some of the greatest living English and American authors.

aumors.

He Editorial Department is noted and widely copied throughout the country for its sound and logical utlerances upon the leading topics of the day. THE YANKEE BLADE is now in its forty-seventh year of continuo publication, and wall merits its title of THE POPULAR AMERICAN WEEKLY. The regular subscription price of The Yan-kee Blade is $7.00 a year, but by a special ar-rangement with the publishers we are able to offer it to any of our readers who care to take atvantage of the unusual inducement ONE YEAR ON TRIAL FOR $1.00. which is only one-half the regular price. This offer is open only to New Subscribers to the Yankee Misde Our readers can order the Yankee Misde through any newadealer in the United States at 5 cents a copy. For specimen copy, send to PUTTER & PUTTER, Publed, The Yankee Misde, if Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

We cordially recommend THE YANKEE BLADE to our readers as a pure and hightoned family story paper, - one of the very best. Although the regular subscription price is $3.00, we will agree to send it an entire year to any reader of this paper on receipt of $1.00 at this office.

YPSILANTI BOYS.

(Continued from page one.)

ing rods blankets, sauce-pans, matches, and all those things that you know which you need on trips like these. Then we all got in and dropped astern just as the sun was washing itself in a loaded aft to keep her bow from plungcloud bath of melted gold, spattering up ing under, with a piping breeze a-blowred streaks all over the sky, and flooding ing and long rolling swells chasing hard the unbroken green of the mighty pine after us, headed, as our skipper said,

Before us was an undiscovered country, and we hoisted sail to set upon our voyage with all the wonder of a Hudson or had bought a loaf of bread. That's what a Cook. As we rounded a woody point I call sailing! there came in sight a little town in front of, which we cast anchor and waited for Mary's river, through forever changing the morning. This town was Detour, a scenes of wondrous beauty; islands place which you will find upon your scarce bigger than a table top, with maps of Michigan at the extreme south- clumps of trees upon them, others acres eastern tip of the upper peninsula, con- in extent, and nothing but bald rock; sisting of a few lumber piles and a good one as round and perfect as if made by many saloons. There was one pretty art, and woods arising from it in sym girl in Detour, who stood behind the metrical succession to a lofty pine which counter of the bake-shop. She was crowns the summit. There are rapids bright-eved and rosy, with a greater out- that come churning down between steep put of slang to the day than the lumber banks through which the steamer in product of any mill in town, I am sure. whose tow we were gasped and labored. Still she was not coarse about it, and said There are lakes whose shores recede and "slobbergasted" and "slab-sided" in such | leave a broad expanse of water, yet so an artiess, charming sort of way that shallow that an artificial channel marked one felt disposed to forgive her. My by double rows of buoys must be kept boys very nearly squandered their allow- by loaded boats or they will ground. In ances in her shop, and the number of some places steering must be done by times the question was asked by one of ranges on the shore, big white targets, the crew, "Do we need any more bread?" was very amusing. We waited for fair weather at Detour, head of Lake Huron to Mackinaw. The coast-line here is broken by innumerable ringing to church. little capes and head-lands, a few of thick that save a narrow strip of beach an end; so farewell. around the Island there was scarcely a wooden pail in a state of decent pres- as pleasant. ervation, with the stencil "Torrent" printed on it, and we could not help but wonder what an adventurous life that self-same pail had led; how it had hung in a grocer's window where pretty housewives peeped into it until it went to sea and fell overboard to wander up and down in the wind till at last a heavy gale pitched it high and dry upon this solitary island. Thoreau, another man like Burroughs, a lover of the fields and rivers, tells of ffinding a brick in the depths of the desolate Maine woods, and what thoughts it waked in him.

A fair wind sprang up in a little while and carried us west till evening, past St. Vetal's Point and into a sandy bay with against which a light sea was splashing. and dishes rattling as the cooks got supcompletely envelops her, and shuts out wind and weather. I wish you could have seen us in that bay. Outside, the moon came up, and through the open ing in the canvas we could see the silver ripples and the snow white surf. and, black and desolate, the distant rim of woods that girt us round. Do you know what cosey means? It is a good Scotch word Americans have borrowed. Had you seen us in our snug interior; esting by the lantern light the buttered toast from the shop of the pretty baker, and then watched us roll into our blankets till the gentle rocking of our cradle sent us off to dream-land, you would know what cosey means.

Mackinaw, the isle of wonders, met our eve at nine next morning, but the wind was head, and tack followed tack before we reached the Bois Blanc light and when we came abreast of Goose Island, with a bumb, bump, bump, we found ourselves pounding on the rocks. You cannot tell, you boy, sitting in your comfortable chair reading this, how it feels to look below you and see sharp pointed rocks sticking up under the water, and each swell of the sea lifting you up to pound you down upon them. I know my own heart was in my mouth. We had our sails down in an instant, and our sweeps out blocking her.

"Keep [a lookout aft!" says Bill, "There's one, look out for it! There's a big one off to starboard!" and in a few too stiff and unadorning. The next moments we have backed out to deep noteworthy thing in this toilet is the present again. A parrow, escape and the water again. A narrow escape and the result of ignorance, for by the chart we result of ignorance, for by the chart we It is striped laterally in the woven ma-find this shoal put down as plain as ink terial, its edges are bordered with black, can make it, and the depth of water 1 ft., 14 ft., 2 ft., indicated at various places over it. This lesson was not lost upon us, and for the rest of our long voyage the chart was kept at Bill's right hand can make it, and the depth of water 1 ft.. the chart was kept at Bill's right hand and looked at many times a day.

To Mackinaw we came at ten o'clock, when the gay, hilarous town was flaming with light. Plank's Grand Hotel upon the hillside seemed encircled in a zone of twinkling diamonds.

I have not time to tell you how we spent the time at Mackinaw, how we line. That is better decidedly than to saw the yachts that raced in the internal have the bustle compressed and disar-

tional regetta, how we climbed the sugarloaf, and arch-rock, and lover's leap and all those wonderful freaks of nature that make this island so famous. How we sailed from the island to Detour, I could not tell you if I tried. We did not sail, we flew, with our two sheets out wing and wing, with all our baggage 'straight for the baker-shop," Detour. We had left the island at 2; we made the pass at 7; and before dark every boy

From here we had sixty miles of St. one behind the other, which the wheelmen keep in line until they reach a certain point, and then take up another and at length set out to run across the pair. When at last we reached the Sault it was Sunday night, and bells were

All the week we saw the wonders of which as named upon the chart tell the this active, living place. We saw Jay religion of the early French explorers; Murray's school and Prof. Bellows holdfor there are saints and ladies called to ing an institute in it. We saw Pete Mcmind by the titles of the various points Kinney's grocery store, and heard news and islands. We passed a big can buoy of Dr. Wailing who had just left for as large as Harrington's sprinkling wag- home. We saw Jack Shaw who helped on and looking somewhat as that would me in some old-time shows in the Opera if floating one end up way cut at House, now a successful lawyer in the sea; and here, the chart informed us was Sault; we watched the vessels locking the wreck of the "Garden City." a through the ship capal; we crossed the steamer which went down in '54. With international bridge and had an Indian fog and wind we so lost time that we paddle us through the boiling rapids. I were not as yet in sight of Mackinaw. wish you had been there; we'll take you and so we ran up to an island to await a perhaps next summer if you join the better breeze. The boys all went ashore | COMMERCIAL'S cruise; but next summer exploring, but they found the woods so will be here before I stop, unless I make

I have tried to paint a pleasant scene chance to walk. One of them discovered of the parting summer; may all yours be UNCLE BILLY.

The matinee girl is foremost just now as an expositor of the newest styles in walking costumes. The one here de-lineated was chosen carefully and without bias from something like five hunless than three feet of water, cut off dred assembled in a Broadway theater. from the lake by a low reef of rocks. The afternoon was bright, the performagainst which a light sea was splashing. We dropped our anchor here, inside the reef, just as the sun went down, and soon had canopy up and stove a going the. The reason which decided the choice for portraiture was that several positive novelties were embodied in per ready. As the Amaranth is built for that particular get up. The hat was a racing, without cabin, we put over her modification of the helmet. It will be every night a thick canvas canopy that seen that the fore-and-aft visors are re-

THE MATINEE GIRL

and unpicturesque crown of the masculine helmet a soft millinery arrangement of fabric has been substituted. This is a distinct improvement, and it will popularize the helmet hat among those who otherwise would avoid it as worn for a while in lieu of a street jacket. carries an ornamental handkerchief. another for use, her wallet, and enough another for use, her wattet, and enough other little things to make up a collection that would rival the contents of a schoolboy's trousers pockets. The arrangement of the over-drapery is peculiar, the portion of the jersey below the belt being divided at the rear, so that the tournure is visible to the waist ranged by the girting of an entire en-circlement. Some of the jerseys seen on stylish young women in the street are very elegantly adorned. The woven material, adapting itself perfect-ly to the form of the wearer, carries its patterns of overlaid decoration very patterns of overlaid decoration very seductively. Graceful girls know this very well, and are therefore likely to use the jersey, in some form or other, for a long time to come.

The girl of the promenade—that is, she who manifestly arrays herself for the walk in Broadway, and not for any place or occasion to which the vices of redestripnism is a necessary. piece of pedestrianism is a necessary service—is indulging in a new freak of demeanor. She carries a bouquet, not in her corrage but in her hand, and she sniffs at it as she saunters. Its flowers match those in her hat, and are such as to harmonize with whatever other colors there may be in her toilet. The hat in this picture is a specimen of about the most pronounced style allowable for city wear by pedestrians. The im-proved helmet has already been described. The other pieces of millinery sketched below are worth critical examination, as displaying new ideas in millinery. The one with the wide but closely turned-up brim is a formation of lace, and unlike anything hitherto devised. The two jockey caps are very pretty fancies in the adaptation of masculine headgear. Colors in millinery are sufficiently varied to suit the most fastidious. Green is not quite so popular as it has been, but there are still a number of new shades in this color. a number of new shades in this color. Blue in all shades will be the color of the season. Some of the very brightest tints will be seen, but there have also a variety of beautiful new shades been prepared, of which a peculiar blue-gray is especially agreeable to the eye. The scabious has been selected as another variety of blue, but the most novel is a shade that is neither gray. novel is a shade that is neither gray nor blue, nor purple, and yet looks like all three against other colors. It has been named lie de vin, though that is not the most descriptive title that could have been chosen.

THE PROMERADE GIRL

Church dressing is more elaborate and resplendent this autumn than for many a year past. It has been a doctrine of our most fastidious ladies that religious worship was not compatible with gorgeousness of toilet, but that feeling seems to have suddenly been dispelled to a large degree, and at the church-going hours the avenues afford fine displays of fashion. The accom-panying sketch reproduces the toilet of a belle at the extremely stylish Grace Church last Sunday. Yellowish white lace of a value hard to estimate was an abundant feature. The hat was made of it and it compressed the liberal of it, and it composed the liberal adornment of the front of corsage and skirt, while another length of it is wrapped around her neck. The gown further shows how the prevailing MONDAY EVE., NOV. the city—it has a frontage so ornamental as to make the rear and sides of the structure seem comparatively cheap and mean. A residence on a crowded street will have three of its walls plain brick, while the exposed one only is made architecturally fine with bay windows, carved cornices, sculptured stoops and artistic gargoyles. Now, the fashionable woman of the period seems to regard herself as being like such a house in having only an exposed front, upon which she expends a disproportionate share of her money and ingenuity. She forgets that people view her from all sides, and that a disof the structure seem comparatively and ingenuity. She forgets that people view her from all sides, and that a distribution of ornament would be wiser. But we are here descriptive, and not too critical, and it is to be regarded as a fact that embroideries, embo@sed designs and applique trimmings are wrought into fronts of gowns more richly than ever before.

richly than ever before.

An eccentricity of wealthy women of fashion, and one in which they are able to distinguished themselves from peo-ple with shorter purses, is an indul-gence in very costly buttons. The show cases in the dry goods stores de-voted to these things are like jewelry stores, so fine is the workmanship, and so varied the devices of the buttons displayed. These are used for all purposes to which exterior buttons are ordinarily devoted. They are being put on dresses for balls and receptions, and on gowns and wraps for the street. Jewels as rare as genuine pearls and diamonds are often set in them, and many come with places left for the insertion of precious stones. Some of our dames possessing rich stocks of gems are having them transferred to buttons. In many cases attists in jewelry are employed to originate designs, so that a woman with money enough to pay for the luxury may button herself into garments quite individually. Real ivory is carved exquisitely, gold and silver are wrought intricately, and, in deed, the best ingenuity in fine handi-work is just now being employed in the production of beautiful buttons. If the enterprising this of the period doesn't provide himself with a strong pair of nippers, lie in wait for the belle with a fortune in her pustons and usedly nip them off her, he will miss the opportunity of his professional life.

Four foot wood wanted at this office.

The best cup of coffee you ever drank made from Bradley's 25c coffee.

One thousand bushess of new cats wanted at Harris Bros. & Co. Sewing machines of any kind repaired it 27, Congress street.

Call and get a pound of Bradley's 50c tea for 25 c. Best in market.

Don't forget we sell cloaks cheaper than Detroit. Bee Hive, For Sale.—Good carriage horse. For particulars inquire of C. A. Shaw, the Depot grocer.

Bazarette opening of a large assort-ment of Holiday goods, beginning Thursday, Nov. 15, and continuing three NORMAL STUDENTS will find it to their interest to buy their wood and coul at Samson's wood yard on Cross street.

The Bazarette is often called the "Ladies store," but gentlemen are invited to inspect the new holiday line of goods at this busy little store next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and can rest assured they will be treated with the utmost deference by the whole Bazarette force.

Oysters ! Oysters ! !
F. A. Oherst at the Depot is receiving fresh oysters daily.

New Varieties of Potatoes.

Seed potatoes of the new varieties, the Maiden's Blush, and the Monarch of the West, fer sale by the originator, Edward Reese, one-half mile west of Fair Ground.

A ticket given with every $1.00 or more purchase of goods, entitles the holder to one chance in the drawing of a 5-Octave Smith Organ at W. R. Davis' Shoe Store, Tyler Block, Congress St.

Brick Blocks on Congress street,
Houses and lots on Congress street,
""" "Hamilton ""
"" Croos ""

" " " Huron " Forest Ave. "Adams street.
"Emmett House and lot "Emmett"
" Prospect "
" " River "
Also vacant lots in different parts of the city and houses to rent.

E. B. Morehouse.

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest, and most Health-ful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder that does not Contain Ammonia, Lime, or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.

NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

UNIVERSITY HALL, ANN ARBOR

: : :: GRAND : : :

CONCERT

With America's Greatest Artists. MISS EMMA JUCH,

Prima-Donna Soprano.

MISS HOPE GLENN, Contralto of Nilsson Concert Co. (Specially Engaged from London.)

MME, TERESA CARRENO. The World-Renowned Pianist.

MR. LEOPOLD LICHTENBERG. Violin Virtuoso.

MR. LEON KEACH, Musical Director and Accompanist.

ADMISSION, $1,00.

Family Tickets, Admitting 6, $5,00.

New Auvertisements You Can Make Money! quietly, by an entirely new method. Perfectly legitimate. Won't interfere with your regular business, or proce to be a humbug. Basing tory results guaranteed. Either sex. Send as cents for explanation. Burners Figure R. Filocess Co., P. O. Box 51, Providence, B. I.

CANCER 'A New Cure comes from China. Queen's Hospital and London Cancer Hospital report cures."—N. F. Express. Endorsed by Medical Journala. Cure guaranteed. Circulars Free. GUN WA CO., Box 43, Paeblo, Colo.

BUYERS OF DRYGOODS

Will find it their advantage to call at

W. H. SWEET'S.

Where you will find the largest stock of Fall and Winter Dress Goods, and at prices that defy competition.

Bargains in Cloaks!

Full line of Jackets, Newmarkets, Plush Jackets, Plush Cloaks.

Millinery Department!

Full of the newest and very latest styles of Fall Hats at the usual Low Prices.

FELT HATS! FELT HAT

Having just received a large lot of these goods we will offer the following styles at prices never before heard of in this city:

Sailor's at 49c, usual price $1.00. Hammock at 79c, usual price $1.00 or $1.25. Cricket at 49c, usual price $1.00. Alpine at 49c, usual price $1.00.

See our stock of Cloaks. Selling fast but being constantly added to.

See our genuine Dongola Kid Button Shoe only $1.67. We guarantee it the equal of any $2.25 shoe to be had elsewhere.

Bee Hive. - Trim & McGregor.

TOTHE WASHINGTON OF Life Insurance Company of N. Y. ASSETS $9,000,000.00.

This old line Company offers the public insurance under all known legitimate forms and upon terms just and liberal. Policy contract concise and business-like. No quibbles, no catches. Dividends at end of first and every year, which can be taken in cash, applied to decreas annual premium, or used to increase the sum insured. e the sum insured. All dividends in the Washington Non-forfeitato increase the sum insured. All dividends in t ble, a feature not found in any other Company.

JULIA E. SHERMAN, Agent.

Office at Residence, Corner Congress and Hamilton Sts.

TE are preparing for THANKSGIVING and CHRISTMAS. Will give you full particulars next week.

DAVIS & CO., 19 Cross St., Ypsilanti.

